SC UPHOLDS VALIDITY OF 2020 AMENDMENT TO FCRA

The changes made to the provisions of the Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act were valid, the Supreme Court ruled on Friday

'STRICT REGIME ESSENTIAL TO CHECK ABUSE'

Upholding the amendments to regulate the foreign funding of the NGOs, the top court noted many recipients of foreign contributions had not utilised the same for the purposes for which they were granted. "The strict regime had become essential because of the past experience of abuse and misutilisation of foreign contribution," the SC observed

'ACCESSING FUNDS NOT AN ABSOLUTE RIGHT'

- Receiving foreign donations cannot be an absolute right, the SC noted, adding that the possibility of the national polity being influenced by foreign contribution is globally recognised
- The court said foreign contribution can have a material impact on the socio-economic structure and polity of the country | P9

RBI finally feels inflation heat

Raises FY23 projection from 4.5% to 5.7%, cuts GDP growth forecast from 7.8% to 7.2%

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Dehli

THE Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has finally woken up to the inflation concern as its governor Shaktikanta Das said on Friday that it has put inflation ahead of growth, changing its long-held monetary policy priority of growth over inflation.

Although RBI has kept the rate at which it offers overnight loans to banks, it heralded the end of an ultra 'accommodative' stance by owning up to the inflation concerns. The central bank raised the 2022-23 inflation estimates by 120 basis points to 5.7% from its earlier estimate of 4.5%. It also cut 2022-23 GDP growth estimate from 7.8% to 7.2%.

"For the past three years, RBI has given growth the priority over inflation. That has changed with this monetary policy," Das said in his press briefing.

In its policy statement, RBI admitted that heightened geopolitical tensions have 'clouded' its earlier inflation outlook, and expressed concern over rising prices due to global supply disruption.

While revising the growth estimate to 7.2%, RBI also accounted for factors other than Russia-Ukraine tensions such as financial market volatility owing to withdrawal of excess liquidity by central banks across the world and renewed Covid-19 infections in major countries.

Das said the government is gradually moving away from an ultra-accommodative stance to an accommodative one. An accommodative stance means cutting policy rates, not hiking interest rates for a protracted period as well as a keenness to raise money supply.

The central bank introduced a new policy tool — Standing Deposit Facility – which allows it to take excess cash from banks without giving government securities as collateral. This makes RBI's job of sucking excess liquidity from the system easier. P12

13 schools in B'luru get hoax bomb threat

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AS many as 13 private schools in and around the city received emails threatening that explosives have been planted on the school premises, on Friday. The police, who concluded that it is a mischief, have intensified the investigation to trace the people behind it. Reacting to the incident, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said it is a conspiracy to disturb peace and tarnish the image of the state.

The hoax threat emails were sent to various schools from 10.30 am till evening, sending the police into a tizzy. Police sources said the mails were sent from various email IDs, which appear to be created with the sole purpose of sending prank emails. "The school authorities alerted the police. The number of schools that have received the threat may go up as many would not have yet checked their mails," an officer said, adding that prank appears to be the only motive.

Soon after getting alerts, the police dispatched sniffer dogs and Bomb Detection & Disposal Squad to the schools. "As SSLC exams were on at some schools, care was taken to ensure they were not affected by the search operations," said A Subramanyeswara Rao, Additional Commissioner of Police (East). P2

Putting down K'taka to attract investors not in good taste: CM slams TN, T'gana

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and IT-BT Minister Dr CN Ashwath Narayan hit out at neighbouring Telangana and Tamil Nadu for trying to attract investments by talking about alleged lack of infrastructure and communal tension in Karnataka. The government is likely to interact with IT-BT industry representatives ahead of the Bengaluru Tech Summit to allay concerns, if any.

After Telangana IT Minister KT Rama Rao, Tamil Nadu Finance Minister Palanivel Thiagarajan has been wooing IT industries in the state, citing communal issues and poor roads in Bengaluru. Bommai said there is no comparison between Karnataka and these states, as it is getting investors from around the world. He pointed out that in the last three quarters, the state has attracted the maximum foreign direct investment in the country. "Putting other states down to attract investors sets a bad precedent. It is not in good taste," he said. P4

Won't accept 'imported' govt: Imran

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

WITH his back to the wall as the Supreme Court's landmark verdict hasn't given him any wriggle room, Pakistan Prime Minister Imran Khan addressed the nation on the eve of a no-trust vote he is expected to lose, lamenting that the court did not take any action against rampant horse-trading against his government.

Imran said he will not accept an 'imported' government and called for street protests on Sunday evening. He also kept peddling the foreign plot theory in his address on Friday, saying no superpower would dare dictate foreign policy to India. The SC should have at least seen the threat letter before announcing its verdict, he argued. "I am disappointed but I accept the ruling because I participated in movement for the restoration of judiciary," he claimed.

Imran is expected to file a review petition in the SC, but it is doubtful if the court would let him weave out of Saturday's no-confidence motion.

Earlier in the day, his cabinet decided to set up a panel led by Lt-General (retd) Tariq Khan to probe the alleged foreign plot. But the General quickly stepped aside and rejected the offer.

'Ordinance on anti-conversion bill'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

THE BJP government will pass an ordinance to bring the Karnataka Protection of Right to Freedom of Religion Bill, 2021, (anti-conversion bill). Social Welfare Minister Kota Srinivas Poojary said on Friday that the government got the cow slaughter bill passed in the Upper House, but not the anti-conversion bill.

The government will see to it that the bill is passed with a majority in the Legislative Council in the future, he said.

Lashing out at Congress, he said the opposition party is going against the high court verdict on the hijab issue. Ahead of Assembly polls, party workers should take development programmes to the doorsteps of the people and strengthen the party's ideology, he added.

Anxiety grips schools, parents ferry kids home

Easy to trace mail, says minister; Could be a prank by student unprepared for exam

Members of the bomb detection squad conduct a search on the premises of Redbridge International School | ASHISHKRISHNA HP

SHILPA P @ BENGALURU

ANXIOUS moments prevailed among authorities of at least seven schools in Bengaluru which received bomb threat mails on Friday morning. Initially, both parents and children were kept in the dark about the situation by school authorities, and until the children were evacuated from school, before the news broke.

It was only after children reached home early, and parents rushed to school out of curiosity to find out the reason, and when parents were asked to pick up their wards, did they realise the gravity of the situation, and turned panicky and anxious.

When The Indian Public School at Govindapura received the threat mail at 11.36am, special classes were going on for over 350 students from pre-nursery to Class 10, to catch up with lessons missed due to the pandemic. The school did not break for summer vacation, sources said.

Naazima, a resident of Hennur and parent of a boy studying in Class 7 at The Indian Public School, said, "We received a WhatApp message on the Class 7 group by the class teacher, to pick up the students. I just rushed. There was no clue about the bomb threat mail. One cannot play with emotions of parents with such hoax threats," she said.

When St Vincent Palloti School in Babusahibpalya received the mail at 10am, teachers were holding classes for students from Class 6 to 9, according to school authorities.

A parent whose child studies at St Vincent Palloti School said, "Students had classes between 8am and 3.30pm. But we were surprised why children reached home early, and shocked to hear that police had visited school. So we rushed to school to check. There were many cops and sniffer dogs at the school."

ICSE, CBSE schools got mails

Surprisingly, all the schools which received bomb threat mails on Friday follow the ICSE or CBSE syllabus, and none of them were centres for SSLC exams. While some of these school were conducting special classes, there is a suspicion that the mail was sent to get the schools to declare holidays.

SSLC exams bothered some: Edu minister

Minister B C Nagesh said, "In the past, a student had made such a prank threat call to see if the exam would be rescheduled. After Covid, no one thought the SSLC exams would go off well. Since the threat has been through mail, the culprit will be caught soon. The home dept has taken it seriously."

Conspiracy to disturb peace: CM

"NO suspicious articles were found in any of the schools,," said A Subramanyeswara Rao, Additional Commissioner of Police (East), adding that those who sent the emails will be nabbed soon.

The police teams searched every nook and corner of the schools that received threat emails, before declaring it a hoax. "A very powerful bomb has been planted in your school, attention is not a joke, this is not a joke, a very powerful bomb has been planted in your school, immediately call the police and sappers, hundreds of life may suffer, including yours, do not delay, now everything is only in your hands!", one of the threat mails sent from email ID malinda.boron72@gmail.com stated.

Gopalan International School in Hoodi near Mahadevapura, Delhi Public School at Sulikunte in Varthur, St Vincent Pallotti School in Hennur, The New Indian Public School in Govindapura falling under the jurisdiction of Bengaluru city police commissionerate received the emails. Similar mails were also sent to Ebenezer International School in Huskur in Hebbagodi police limits, Redbridge International Academy on Begur-Koppa Road and Candor International School on Koppa Road, both in Bannerghatta police limits, Kunskapsskolan and Inventure Academy in Sarjapur police limits in Bengaluru Rural district. The names of a few other schools that received the mails are yet to be verified.

Bommai said a conspiracy is on to disturb peace in the state and some elements are repeatedly trying to tarnish the image.

Don't skip PU II exams, appeals ex-VC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

PROF Jalees Ahmed Khan Tareen, a former vice-chancellor, on Friday appealed to all Muslim girls to follow the law of the land and take up the second pre-university exams without getting involved in the hijab controversy.

Tareen is the former vice-chancellor of Kashmir, Pondicherry and BSA universities and a former member of the University Grants Commission. She told the girls, "Writing the exams is in your interest, in the interest of the community and future generations. Religious and political leaders should have come on one platform and advised the girls on bettering their future. Unfortunately, they spent all their energy on discussing the rights and laws, which will take its own course. The lost time will not come back and if you absent yourselves from the exams, you will be the only ones affected and not community leaders. They trigger your emotions but do not help you in any way."

She said, "Do not wear the hijab in classrooms or exam halls. Don't think that hijab cannot be removed and it is mandatory. There are plenty of examples where you have to remove the hijab, like going for Aadhaar card biometric, passport procedures, consulting a male doctor etc. I appeal to all Muslim girls not to abstain from exams or classes or to refrain from higher education because of hijab restrictions by the government or the law."

SSLC EXAM

98% attendance for 3rd language

BENGALURU: SSLC students wrote the third language exam on Friday, recording 98.11 per cent attendance across the state. According to education department sources, 8,18,649 students had enrolled for the exam. Among 46,004 private students, 80.76 per cent were present, while among 2,562 repeaters, 77.44 per cent students were present. Bengaluru North recorded 98.22 per cent attendance, while Bengaluru South recorded 98.17 per cent. The Science exam is scheduled for Monday.

High security, more grants for Karaga

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

TO ensure that no untoward incidents or communal clashes occur, security measures are being put in place around all the roads where the Karaga will move, said MN Anucheth, DCP Central Division. Around 450 police personnel will be deployed on ground for security during the Karaga Utsav.

Speaking to the media on Friday on the sidelines of the launch of the Karaga poster and the route map, Anucheth appealed to people to ensure peace and harmony is maintained. All police arrangements are being made and stern action will be taken against those who disturb or pose any inconvenience to the traditional practice. 38 police official will also be put on duty for Karaga, said Anucheth. Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta said that a grant of Rs 50 lakh, from the BBMP, is being given to the Karaga committee for the event. This is part of the budget document, he added. Gupta said that the roads where the Karaga procession will move and the deepotsava with other ceremonies will be held have been improved.

Greening around the areas is also being done, make shift toilets are being put up and facilities for lighting the lamps for the Deepotsava, he added.

Learn from Covid: Corp lawyer to IIM grads

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Indian Institute of Management, Bengaluru (IIMB) conducted the 47th convocation ceremony on Friday. Renowned corporate lawyer and AZB & Partners co-founder Zia J Mody was the chief guest at the event.

Congratulating the graduates on successfully completing their programmes through the Covid-19 pandemic, she said that IIMB has succeeded in producing students that have made the country proud and she hopes to see research CEOs and unicorns from the batch.

In all, 690 students graduated from the institute on Friday and nine students won gold medals for best all round performances and ranks. Out of the 690 students, 11 were fromt he institute's doctoral programme, 488 from the PG programme in Management, 76 from the PG programme in enterprise management and 40 from the PG programme in Business Analytics.

The graduates who won gold medals

Zia Mody advised the student to work in areas that they enjoy and to be patient and stick to their core values. She said that the Covid-19 pandemic had offered an opportunity to learn adaptability and the ability to change for both the graduates as well as herself. "There is nothing like a perfect work/life balance. Everything gets measured by what you prioritize, and sometimes sacrifice, in the road to success," she said.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

09th April: Saturday is ruled by the planet Saturn, which just happens to be very strong at the moment. Saturn is an obstinate and conservative planet which likes to keep things as they are or, better still, recreate the past. Importantly, if you are launching new enterprises, make sure that they are based on firm foundations.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Your most intimate personal concerns are under intense scrutiny. But so also are your very powerful public ambitions. This therefore promises to be a weekend of considerable interest. A twist will come when someone you barely know becomes interested in you!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Today's multi-layered planetary configurations are superb from the Taurean point of view. The list of activities which stand to benefit is long and varied, including holiday and travel plans, legal affairs and educational aspirations. You could also be fighting hard for your principles.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Generous Jupiter's presence in an intense part of your chart should be sufficient to protect you from the worst features of an imminent upheaval and enable you to prosper. The lessons you learn now - and over the next month - should guarantee you a prosperous future.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
There really is very little that you can't achieve at the present time, so set your hopes as high as you can. Ultimately, though, it's your creative gifts which determine whether you succeed or fail. One thing to remember is to take as much rest as you need.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
It's a feature of astrological life that important developments often take place before you've figured out what's happening! That is why the real impact of current improvements may therefore not be understood for some time to come. Have faith in your future.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You may develop a more independent approach to life in general - one based on your individual and unique, creative skills. In spite of current delays, you will shortly be able to see the value of such a course of action. But, then, patience is one of your better virtues!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Consciously, your desires seem to be directed towards achieving the respect of your peers and status in the community. Yet I would hazard a guess that what really drives you is the desire for real emotional security and genuine approval from your family.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Travel and overseas connections are now assuming a much greater importance. Yet so is the need to achieve a genuine spiritual understanding of your life and the important direction you are currently taking. You want the best and, with sufficient self-discipline, you'll get it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
It is difficult to know exactly how deep the weekend's developments will go. Probably it is true to say that, while some of you may be concerned solely with superficial financial arrangements, others will be dealing with profound questions, such as the value you put on your life as a whole.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You're feeling the need to battle for worthy causes - and fight for your freedom. It would be an understatement to say that you can get your way in almost any area of human activity. And that's quite something! Be sure to pay attention to every tiny detail.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Relationships with children should be much improved. On a deeper level, so will your understanding and appreciation of what the psychologists call your inner child, the source of your creative spontaneity. The young-at-heart will be taking the lead.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Think big and go all out to develop a creative skill. You're on a winning streak, though perhaps true success can only be judged by you, not by other people. That is why self-esteem is so important. Family members may offer you more support than you expected.

Anxiety among citizens after new strain reportedly found in Mumbai

Corona warriors protest demanding regularisation of their services | VINOD KUMAR T

No cases of XE detected in state

SHILPA P @Bengaluru

THE health department has not received any cases of the new XE variant of Omicron in the state, Commissioner for Health and Family Welfare D Randeep said here on Friday.

Anxiety prevails among citizens after the Mumbai civic body reported finding the XE strain of Covid in the sample of a 50-year-old South African costume designer with international travel history, who tested positive over a month ago. The Union health ministry has clarified, though, that genome sequencing of the patient's sample does not indicate the presence of XE. Randeep said that so far, they have not received any suspected cases of XE variant in the state, and not sent any suspected samples of XE for genome sequencing either.

Asked if the state is taking additional precautions in screening international passengers in the wake of the report on XE, he said, "It is not a new variant of concern. It is just a recombinant, so people need not be anxious."

The XE variant is a combination of BA.1 and BA.2 strains of Omicron, and is said to be 10 per cent more transmissible. The XE variant was first detected in the United Kingdom, and is said to have been detected in New Zealand and Thailand too.

So far, in Karnataka, genome sequencing of selected representative samples has confirmed that of 3,775 samples that tested positive for Omicron, 947 samples were positive for BA1.1.529 variant of Omicron, and 99 samples tested positive for BA.1 variant of Omicron. This year alone, 2,729 samples tested positive for the BA.2 variant of Omicron.

Booster dose available for 18+ age group from tomorrow

SHILPA P @ Bengaluru

WITH the Union health ministry announcing that adults aged 18 years and more can get booster doses at private vaccination centres from Sunday, private hospitals in Karnataka are waiting for the State government to release slots on the CoWIN app.

Sources in the state health and family welfare department said they are yet to receive official communication on this. The department is holding an orientation programme on Saturday.

Health and Family Welfare Commissioner D Randeep said the booster jab for those above 18 years of age will be given only at private hospitals. Asked if they would cap the vaccine price, he said the Union health ministry would do it.

Meanwhile, Adar Poonawalla, CEO of Serum Institute of India (SII), said SII will sell the Covishield precaution dose to private hospitals at a discounted rate of below Rs 600, plus tax. Those who have completed nine months after the second dose would be eligible for the booster jab.

Six arrested, drugs worth ₹38.45 cr seized

Bengaluru: The Govindapura police have arrested six people and seized drugs worth ₹38.45 crore in two separate operations. In the first incident, the police nabbed three people near Forest Office in HBR Layout's 1st Block when they were trying to sell drugs to their customers. The police seized 6.5 kg MDMA, 75 gram cocaine, 300 gram tramadol and 70 kg methaqualone, worth ₹37 crore in total. In the second incident, the police arrested three people from Odisha and seized 290 kg of ganja worth ₹1.45 crore. ENS

Retd bank manager loses ₹3L in 9 minutes

PRAVEEN KUMAR @Bengaluru

A 60-year-old retired bank manager, despite being aware of safety steps that need to be taken to avert cyber frauds, herself became a victim of such a fraud recently. Replying to a message sent from an unknown number, she lost Rs Rs 3.04 lakh within nine minutes.

The message read that her net banking had been suspended and she had proceed after pressing the link. She did so and submitted all the KYC details, including OTPs. Within minutes, she lost most of her savings. The elderly woman, who stays at Brigade Meadows-Plumeria apartment on Kanakapura Road, filed a complaint on Tuesday in the jurisdictional CEN police station.

The victim, Sujatha Ramkumar, has a savings account in a bank on Avenue Road. At 6.14 pm on Monday, she got the message, clicked the link and provided all the details. When she got the OTPs, she updated them in the link too.

"Between 6.26 pm and 6.35 pm, within nine minutes, fraudsters withdrew Rs 3.04 lakh from my account," she stated in her complaint.

The accused have transferred the money in three transactions. The victim realised that she had been duped when she started receiving messages of money being debited from her account. She filed the complaint the next day with details of the link and the mobile phone number from which the link was sent.

"Being a retired bank manager, she should have shown some seriousness before replying to the message from an unknown number. All she could have done was to check if the net banking was active or not. In case it was suspended, she should have approached the executives of the bank who would have helped her. Sometimes, the bank sends prior messages to its customers about non-functioning net banking in case of some server issues," said an officer, who is part of the investigation.

HC issues directions on power of attorney

HC's directives

- When a compromise petition is filed, court has to record it but not refer to Lok Adalat
- Matter be referred only to Lok Adalat if there is no settlement before the court and parties request to do so
- Separate order sheet should be maintained when matter is referred to Lok Adalat
- Ascertain if parties are present personally and verify their identities
- Ascertain if the concerned party has been served with notice
- Examine original power of attorney and return it after mentioning in order
- Secure presence of party and obtain signature rather than power of attorney

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

COMING across several writ petitions challenging the alleged fraud due to compromise decrees being passed based on fabricated powers of attorney in property disputes by trial courts and referring such matters to Lok Adalats for compromise, the Karnataka High Court issued nine general directions to be followed by trial courts and Lok Adalats.

Allowing a petition by Renuka from Mumbai, Justice Suraj Govindaraj quashed the compromise decree dated July 26, 2014 passed by the Lok Adalat and restored the original suit. Renuka, the original owner of the property, alleged that a person claiming to be his power of attorney holder committed fraud by filing a compromise petition in the Lok Adalat without her knowledge. She alleged that Gajanan from Keshwapur in Hubballi filed the suit against her, represented by the power of attorney holder, Ramanand, seeking for specific performance of an alleged agreement dated April 25, 2014 which is alleged to have been executed by Ramanand.

In the suit, a notice was ordered to Ramanand without serving a notice Renuka. Ramanand had filed a compromise petition even before the return of notice. The petition having been filed before the court, the matter was referred to the Lok Adalat, where a compromise was recorded by the conciliators and compromise decree was directed to be passed.

Loco pilots seek safety near their workspot

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

FOLLOWING a brutal attack on an Assistant Loco Pilot (ALP) attached to Krishnarajapuram Railway Station this week by three miscreants, all staff involved in train operations here have appealed to the Divisional Railway Manager in Bengaluru for protection from robbery and attacks near their workspot.

It has come to light that ALP Amar Singh was attacked with a sword on Tuesday night (April 5) and suffered head injuries. He filed an FIR against unknown persons at Ramamurthy Nagar police station.

Loco-Pilots, Assistant Loco-Pilots (ALPs) and Train Managers (earlier called guards) at Krishnarajapuram are signatories to the letter written by Singh on Thursday. It pointed out that the crew was asked to report for duty at night, and they feel unsafe due to the prevailing situation near their workspot. "Very often, incidents like snatching, robbery, attacks on people and hitting them without any reason occurs in this area, KJM lobby," it said. The lobby or crew booking centre is on Platform 5 of the station.

The matter needs to be taken very seriously, and patrolling is needed as such incidents may not only cause loss of property but even loss of life, it stressed.

Detailing the assault in the letter, Singh said he had completed his shift by 6pm and returned to his railway quarters. The attack occurred when he was heading to the market around 10pm for a domestic errand, near Jubilee School. Another ALP, Manoj Kumar, admitted him to nearby Koshys Hospital.

An ALP said, "Some drunk strangers stopped Amar Singh's bike on the road and asked him to go to the station. He didn't argue and turned his bike to do as told. Unfortunately, his bike stopped due to some problem. The men came running and hit him on his head."

SHAH FACES OPPN HEAT OVER HINDI REMARK

Earlier attempts to impose Hindi did not go down well, says Siddu

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

FORMER Chief Minister Siddaramaiah took strong exception to Union Home Minister Amit Shah's remarks that people from different states should speak in Hindi with each other, and it should be accepted as an alternative to English.

"Hindi is not our official language and we will never let it be. Imposing Hindi is a sign of coercive federalism rather than cooperative federalism," the Opposition Leader in the Assembly stated on a social media platform.

Siddaramaiah said as a Kannadiga, he takes strong offence to the Home Minister's comment on official language and medium of communication. "Linguistic diversity is the essence of our country and we will respect each other's sentiments. Pluralism is what has held our country together and any attempt by the BJP to undo this will be met with strong opposition and retaliation," he said.

The former CM said it is time for the BJP to understand that more linguistic and cultural autonomy should be given to states. "All-India exams have to be held in regional languages, NEP has to be reworked to avoid Hindi imposition and all major state languages should be official languages," he said. History clearly suggests that any attempt to impose Hindi in other states has not gone well, he said.

Taking to twitter, State Congress president DK Shivakumar said, "All Kannadigas are proud of our mother tongue but we do need a second language to be part of a globalised world. English is the second language as without English, so many Kannadigas won't be working across the world, and Bengaluru wouldn't be India's IT capital."

The ruling BJP hit back at the former CM by stating that at no point did the Home Minister mention that Hindi should replace the native language. He has clearly stated that Hindi should be accepted as an alternative to English and that Hindi should be made more flexible by accepting words from native languages, the BJP stated. "We appeal to Siddaramaiah not to lecture needlessly to others. He should concentrate more on staying relevant in the Congress and find a safe seat to contest in the 2023 Assembly elections," the party said.

Parameshwara condemns remarks

BENGALURU: Congress leader and former deputy chief minister Dr G Parameshwara on Friday criticised Home Minister Amit Shah for suggesting that people from different states should use Hindi when interacting with each other and not English. Taking on Shah, Parameshwara tweeted: "I strongly condemn HM @AmitShah's recent statement that people from other states should speak in Hindi and not English. He must stop repeatedly imposing Hindi on us and instead must embrace the diversity of India. Language should be a choice and not imposed in a federal structure (sic)". The Congress leader had grabbed the headlines when he shared the dais with Shah during the 115th birth anniversary of Sri Shivakumara Swamiji at Siddaganga Mutt on April 1 while skipping Congress leader Rahul Gandhi's brainstorming session held simultaneously in Bengaluru. During the event, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai had introduced Parameshwara to Shah.

Can't Shah speak English, asks HDK

BENGALURU: JDS leader and former CM H D Kumaraswamy hit out at Home Minister Amit Shah, asking if the latter can't speak English. He said no one will accept the imposition of Hindi. He also urged the state government to take the life threats made against 61 writers and litterateurs, including Kum Veerabhadrappa, seriously. Speaking to the media at the party office in Bengaluru on Friday, he said, "I personally have no fear. I believe in God. There is no question of backing away from my stance." He said there is the example of scholar M M Kalburgi, who was assassinated. "Such incidents should not be repeated in the state," he added.

FBI in India to probe bitcoin scam?

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

MONTHS after the bitcoin scam was made public, there is talk that international agencies have landed in India, hot on the trail of the bitcoins. Congress leaders were quick to tweet that there is something fishy about the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), the intelligence agency of the United States, landing in India.

Congress leader Priyank Kharge tweeted, "I believe the FBI is in Delhi to investigate the billion-dollar bitcoin scam. Like I said before, if the state investigates the matter diligently, a lot of BJP's skeletons will tumble out."

> I believe the FBI is in Delhi to investigate the billion-dollar bitcoin scam. Like I said before, if the state investigates the matter diligently, a lot of BJP's skeletons will tumble out
> Priyank Kharge, Congress leader

Congress General Secretary in charge of Karnataka Randeep Singh Surjewala went ballistic on Twitter, and posed a series of questions to the state government. He asked Chief Minister Bommai and Home Minister Araga Jnanendra whether the FBI is in India to investigate the country's biggest bitcoin scam cover-up under the BJP government. He asked how many bitcoins were stolen, of what value and who in Karnataka was involved.

Surjewala also wanted to know whether the stolen bitcoins were transferred from the wallet of alleged hacker Srikrishna, and whether the 'Whale Alerts', reflecting the transfer of 14,682 stolen 'Bitfinix' bitcoins valued at Rs 5,240 crore, on two days -- December 1, 2020, and April 14, 2021 – when Srikrishna was in custody, are correlated?

"What is the role and responsibility of Chief Minister Sri Basavaraj Bommai, who was home minister in-charge at the relevant time and others in the state government?" he tweeted.

He also asked why Interpol was not informed, and why the BJP government had waited for over five months, till April 24, 2021, to write to Interpol and that too after the release of Srikrishna on April 17, 2021?

He sought to know why the National Investigation Agency, Serious Fraud Investigation Office and Enforcement Directorate were not informed by the Karnataka BJP government. "Let HM and CM Bommai answer," he said.

It has been more than eight months since the bitcoin scam surfaced, leaving a trail of unanswered questions.

Shettar meets Shah, claims discussed politics

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

FORMER Chief Minister Jagadish Shettar called on Union Home Minister Amit Shah, just a few hours after Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai left New Delhi — without meeting Shah — giving rise to much speculation. However, party sources termed it a courtesy call, while Shettar clarified that the meeting was limited to discussing the political scenario of the state.

In fact, Shettar along with Sugar Minister Shankar Patil Munenakoppa went to New Delhi much before Bommai did, and camped there for over four days. They called on Shah on Thursday evening. In a one-on-one meeting that lasted about 20 minutes, the duo discussed the political scenario in Karnataka and preparations for the next assembly polls.

"When Shah arrived in Karnataka for the core committee meeting, I couldn't meet him personally, and he had invited leaders who wanted to talk about the political scenario to call on him in New Delhi. After the Parliament session was adjourned, I met Shah," Shettar told TNIE.

Former CM Jagadish Shettar calls on Home Minister Shah in New Delhi on Thursday

Asked whether he was lobbying for any post, he categorically denied it, saying they had discussed the political scenario following several events in Karnataka, and the BJP's position. He also claimed to have discussed the party's organisation, and steps to be taken to retain power.

Shettar, the 66-year-old Lingayat leader who succeeded D V Sadananda Gowda as chief minister from July 2012 to May 2013, was known for calling on the party high command at every crucial juncture. His visit to New Delhi in February 2022, when there was speculation about the Bommai cabinet rejig, had set off talk too.

> When Shah arrived in Karnataka for the core committee meeting, I couldn't meet him, and he had invited leaders who wanted to talk about the political scenario to call on him in New Delhi
> Jagadish Shettar, former CM

He was Large and Medium Industries Minister in the B S Yediyurappa cabinet, between August 2019 and July 2021, but did not join the Bommai cabinet.

As a Lingayat leader, he is quite influential in parts of Karnataka, especially Hubballi-Dharwad, and has the backing of several religious heads. Shettar recently visited Jangamwadi Mutt in Varanasi and called on the religious head, Dr Chandrashekara Shivacharya Swami. PM Narendra Modi also used to visit the Mutt.

Cong accuses BJP govt of multi-crore power scam

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Mysuru

CONGRESS on Friday accused the BJP government of indulging in corruption running into thousands of crores while purchasing power from private power generators.

KPCC spokesperson M Lakshmana alleged that the BJP government has managed to swindle Rs 5,000 to 6,000 crore in the form of commission by paying higher prices to private firms when purchasing power.

> While the Centre is buying power at Rs 4.70 per unit, Karnataka is paying Rs 6.80 per unit, a difference of Rs 2
> M Lakshmana, KPCC spokesperson

Hitting out at the government for increasing power tariff five times in the last two years, he said the repeated revisions are to earn commissions illegally. The state has the capacity to generate 14,574 MW of power, while the demand is for 9,451 MW. Though, the state produces 6,708 MW and has the potential to step up power generation on its own to meet the shortage of 2,643 MW, the government is purchasing power from private companies, he said.

Lakshmana said the managing director of Karnataka Power Transmission Corporation Ltd, V Poonuraju, wrote to Chief Secretary P Ravi Kumar on February 14 asking the government to stop buying power from Adani and Udupi power companies as the state has the capacity to generate required power on its own.

"While the central government is buying power at Rs 4.70 per unit, Karnataka is paying Rs 6.80 per unit, a difference of Rs 2. The BJP government gets a commission of Re 1 per unit and with the purchase of 87,483 million units, this scandal runs into Rs 5,000 to 6,000 crore," he alleged.

He said Congress will launch a campaign from Mysuru against BJP's "commission politics" and accused the government of looting the state.

He said the recent communal tension in the state has turned out to be a blessing for Tamil Nadu, whose industries minister is inviting investors from Karnataka. He blamed BJP national general secretary CT Ravi for spreading hate in the state.

On the rise in prices of essential commodities, he said Anna Hazare, who fought against Congress and helped AAP form government in Delhi, has been silent on the issue for the last eight years.

TRUCKERS GIVE CM 30 DAYS TO INTERVENE ON FUEL PRICE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

LORRY owners from across Karnataka have warned of going on a strike if Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai does not intervene to reduce the price of diesel, abolish check-posts at state borders, scuttle the sand mining policy and stop implementing the vehicle scrappage policy.

The Federation of Karnataka State Lorry Owners' and Agents' Association has given the state government a deadline of 30 days to fulfil their demands.

In a press conference on Friday, the association leaders said the vehicle scrappage policy was unscientific as the decision to increase the fees for fitness certificate and registration of vehicles that are more than 15 years was just aimed at scrapping of such vehicles. They urged the state government to revert the hike in fees as it burdened the owners who own one or two vehicles.

"The state government has to reduce the prices of fuel when transport charges are still the same. Diesel price in Karnataka may be lower compared to other states, but the sharp increase in fuel prices in the last fortnight is severely affecting the sector," association president G R Shanmugappa said.

The association further sought abolition of all border check-posts, on the lines of a few other states, as all the services of check-posts have shifted online. Transporters are being harassed at check-posts and it need to be abolished, the federation urged.

The association also wanted the government to allow lorries to transport sand. They also pointed out about previous meetings with the government on the issue which did not bear any results.

Panchamsali seer sets April 14 deadline for quota

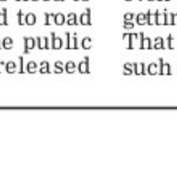
EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Vijayapura

KUDALASANGAMA Panchamasali Peeta seer Basava Jaya Mruthyunjaya Swami has issued yet another deadline of April 14 to the state government to fulfil various demands of the community, including providing 2A category reservation for the sub-sect.

Addressing media persons here on Friday, the Swamiji said, "We have been agitating for the past one-and-a-half years demanding the 2A category in OBC for the Veerashaiva-Lingayat Panchamasali and other neglected communities, but nothing has fructified yet."

He said the government has only given them assurances and failed to stand by its word.

"Though we lost hopes in the government, we are giving yet another deadline, that is April 14. If the government fails to fulfil the demands in the next two weeks, we will stage a protest to take the matter to the logical end," he warned.



Basava Jaya Mruthyunjaya Swami had spearheaded the 450-km padayatra wherein thousands of people from the community accompanied him from Kudalasangama to Bengaluru demanding 2A reservation.

MB Patil offers free edu to 17 Ukraine returnees

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Vijayapura

MEDICAL students from Vijayapura, who were evacuated from war-torn Ukraine, can now heave a sigh of relief as BLDE (Deemed-to-be-University) has come to their rescue by offering free education in its medical college.

KPCC campaign committee chairman and MLA M B Patil, who is president and chancellor of the institution, has announced free education to all the 17 medical students of Vijayapura at BLDEA's Shri BM Patil Medical College, until further orders of the government.

Patil chaired a meeting with the students and their parents at his residence recently. "In the interest of the students, we have decided to at least allow them to attend classes so that they can continue their education at least unofficially before the government takes a final call in this regard. The students can spend the time in learning at BLDE medical college campus," he said.

Shun hatred, work hard: Vishwanath

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Mysuru

IN the backdrop of increasing incidents of inflammatory speeches by right-wing outfits, BJP MLC A H Vishwanath urged people to work hard and earn their bread instead of fighting over caste and religion.

Speaking during a discussion on 'Present Relevance of Kannada Writer Poornachandra Tejaswi's Thoughts', organised by NGO Odanadi Seva Samsthe on Friday, Vishwanath said there has to be cooperation and harmony among people belonging to different castes and religions for a peaceful living.

"Prime Minister Narendra Modi belongs to Ganiga caste, which is a microscopic community in Gujarat dominated by Patels. He became chief minister for three terms and later Prime Minister for the second term. He has never spoken on Hindutva, but introduced various welfare programmes for Dalits and backward communities. But the state government, instead of implementing the Centre's programmes, is wasting time on discussing whether Muslims should run shops near temples, which is disgusting," he said.

Stating that for centuries, Muslims had shops near temples and there had never been a problem, Vishwanath questioned who will buy scrap items from houses or purchase mangoes from farmers if Muslims are banned from all activities.

Will talk to Pai on B'luru roads: Bommai

"LET them develop their state on their own strength. Karnataka is getting investors on its strength and talented resources. No one can stop Karnataka's progress, and it will continue," he added.

Biocon chief Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw recently expressed concern over communal issues impacting investments in the state.

Bommai said Tamil Nadu and Telangana have become desperate as companies do not prefer to go to those states. There is no comparison between Karnataka and these states, as they have just started focusing on IT. "Whatever good we have, that needs to be highlighted to woo investors and companies. They are taking shortcuts like these and this is their weakness. We never called investors or companies who went to other states. This is our strength."

Former Infosys director Mohandas Pai too had complained about bad roads in Bengaluru. Clarifying, Bommai said that the condition of roads in Bengaluru is improving. "In the next one month, roads will improve further. I will talk to Pai personally. There is no need to panic. All data related to road development is in the public domain. We have released funds under Nagarothana schemes and the BBMP budget has been presented. In the coming days, roads will be developed in a big way" he added.

Ashwath Narayan said whatever is happening now in the state is not against any religion and the government is only going by court orders. "Our State is known for tolerance and its investor-friendly policies. Bengaluru is a cosmopolitan city which respects other cultures. Investors moving towards Tamil Nadu or Telangana is not even 5 per cent of what we are getting and they are desperate. That is why they are making such statements," he added.

Finally, the CPM has brought clarity on the perennial issue of alliance with the Congress. Going by the majoritarian view in the party, the CPM decided not to have any kind of national political alliance with the Congress during their 23rd Party Congress in Kannur.

Full power to Mullaperiyar Dam panel: SC

Technical experts from Kerala and Tamil Nadu to be part of committee, says Apex Court

PRATHMA SHARMA @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday ruled that the reconstituted and strengthened Mullaperiyar Dam Supervisory Committee will discharge all the functions of the National Dam Safety Authority (NDSA) specified in Section 9 of the Dam Safety Act, 2021, and will be accountable for matters relating to the safety of the dam until a regular NDSA becomes functional.

The safety of the 126-year-old dam has been a source of prolong dispute between Tamil Nadu and Kerala. The Apex Court also directed the Centre to extend all assistance to the committee for efficient discharge of its functions and in exercise of power as per the terms of its order.

"Needless to mention that the reconstituted Supervisory Committee will decide all outstanding matters related to Mullaperiyar Dam's safety and conduct a safety review afresh...In case of any operational issues arising during the execution of directions given by the Supervisory Committee, the Chief Secretary of the State concerned shall be personally responsible to ensure that every direction given by the committee is taken to its logical end without any exception. In other words, the party-States must extend complete cooperation to ensure that directions of the Committee from time to time are complied with in the prescribed time, failing which will not only invite appropriate action for violating the court's directions but all concerned would be liable to be proceeded with under the 2021 Act," the order by a three-judge bench headed by Justice AM Khanwilkar said.

The court has said that two technical experts be made part of the existing Supervisory Committee within two weeks, each from Kerala and Tamil Nadu, who must be well-versed in dam management, reservoir operation, instrumentation, etc. "As aforesaid, this is only an interim arrangement until the 'regular NDSA' under the 2021 Act becomes fully functional. The matter be notified on 11.05.2022 for submitting compliance-cum-status report by the Supervisory Committee and for consideration of other reliefs," the bench said.

Stones thrown at Shobha Yatra, Mulbagal tense

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mulbagal (Kolar)

COMMUNAL tension prevailed at Mulbagal in Kolar district on Friday evening after stones were thrown and a motorbike was set on fire during the Sri Rama Shobha Yatra procession, leading to a lathi-charge by the police. Additional forces have been deployed in the town to prevent any further untoward incidents.

Sree Seetharama Kalyanothsava and Sree Rama Maha Samrajya Pattabhisheka were planned as part of the four-day programme at Avani Kesthra in Mulbagal from April 7 to 11.

On Friday, the procession was passing through main streets of the town, in which Kolar MP S Muniswamy too was participating. When it reached Srinivasapura Circle, some miscreants threw stones and some in the procession retaliated, leading to chaos. The police tried to disperse the crowd, but when the situation did not come under control, they resorted to lathi-charge. A motorbike was also set on fire by the mob. The situation has been brought under control, the police said.

Draft of tree list hits social media

ENS @Bengaluru

NOT all news circulated on social media is correct, said a senior forest official, citing a list of 10 local tree species being added to the list of those exempted from the category where permission for felling and transportation is needed. A list of 10 trees was doing the rounds all Friday, including Neem, Babool, Mahogany, Hulgal, Atti, Ala, Arali, Bore, Shivani, Dowga Bamboo and Medril Bamboo, and stating that these can now be axed. A senior forest official clarified to TNIE, "This is the draft doing the rounds. The draft was prepared for internal discussion among forest officials, and we don't know who has leaked it."

Naxal activities ebbing, govt mulls reducing ANF camps

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chikkamagaluru

With Naxal activities declining in the Malnad region of three districts, the government is contemplating to close down some Anti-Naxal Force (ANF) camps. Police personnel working in the camps are getting ready to return to the Home Department.

The government forced the ANF in 2005 following Naxal activities in the hilly region of Malnad for social justice reaching its peak. The forces were deployed in various vulnerable places in Naxal-infested Chikkamagaluru, Shivamogga and Udupi districts.

IPS officer late Madhukar Shetty was appointed as the first SP of the region. Civil police were handpicked who were given special training in combing operation against Naxalites and the ANF teams started functioning in the three districts. They worked in shifts in 12 ANF camps including Dyavalakoppa, Kigga, Kerekatte, Jayapura and Agumbe in Shivamogga, Karkala and Hebri in Udupi district. Each camp comprised 30 to 35 ANF policemen. The police and Naxalite exchanged fire after they started operating under the SP.

Since ANF is an extra burden on the exchequer, the government plans to reduce the number of camps to to five or six, and Dyavalakoppa and Jayapura NF camps will be closed down. Police personnel in the closed camps will return to civil police stations, where they were earlier posted.

YOUTH THRASHED TO DEATH OVER BIKE THEFT, THREE HELD

Palakkad : A 27-year-old youth was thrashed to death on suspicion of motorbike theft at Aiswarya Nagar Colony in Olavakkode in the early hours of Friday. The accused Guruvayurappan, 23, of Kollengode, Manish, 23, of Kattussery, and Surya, 20, of Palasena who thrashed Rafeeq of Farzana Manzil, Malampuzha, to death tried to flee the scene after the incident at 1.45 am but were detained by the locals and handed over to the police. They were arrested by the Palakkad Town North Police. The youths who stopped at a hotel was told by a security guard that a youth had taken one of their bikes which was later confirmed when they examined the CCTV footage of the hotel. Rafeeq showed them the bike and they recognised it, and he was beaten by the youths. He sustained fatal injuries to his head.

After 3 years, Lakkundi Utsav to return, confirms minister

RAGHOTTAM KOPPAR @Gadag

WITH the PWD Minister CC Patil confirming holding the Lakkundi Utsav, the administration is holding this event after a gap of three years.

The administration dropped the Utsav in 2019 due to severe drought in the district, and the pandemic in the last two years shelved the festival. As the district has not reported any fresh cases, authorities have decided to resume this annual event. Stating that the Utsav will be held soon, Patil said, "The villagers should cooperate in the development of the historical place as the government has planned to develop more infrastructure to facilitate those who are visiting." Some villagers said, "Last year, few history

Many going to Hampi from Hubballi, Dharwad, Gadag skip Lakkundi as the bypass road is nearly a km away from the old main road." Dattaprasanna Patil, a history lecturer from Gadag said, "Lakkundi has to be developed and travellers going on Hubballi to Hospet Road should visit here. A social media campaign was also started but needs more effort to attract people."

4 tigers spotted in S. Kodagu villages: Katti

Madikeri: Karnataka state forest minister Umesh Katti confirmed that four tigers are on prowl across the villages of South Kodagu. He toured Kodagu on Friday and collected information on the rising man-animal conflict in the district. The minister also visited the family of an estate labourer who was killed in a tiger attack recently. "The mission to capture the tiger that claimed the life of a human is ongoing. I have received information that four tigers have been spotted across the villages of South Kodagu and identification of the tiger which killed the labourer is underway," he said.

US DOLLAR COMES UNDER ALL-ROUND ATTACK

The US sanctions on Russia after its invasion of Ukraine has generated a strong reverse kick. World's largest countries with the biggest economies are moving away from payments in the US dollar and increasingly using local currencies for trade. Among these countries are Russia, China, India, Saudi Arabia and Iran.

Russia has managed not to lose its massive oil and gas business even after being removed by the US and its allies from SWIFT, the international financial system for transactions and payments. The country has shifted with remarkable ease to doing business in the rouble instead of the dollar. Russia has entered into an agreement with Beijing to supply coal for the Chinese yuan. Russia has also offered for China to buy crude with yuan. If the two nations agree on this trade, which is very likely to happen, the dollar's international footprint would further shrink. China is also engaged in discussion with Saudi Arabia for dropping the dollar and choosing yuan for payment for oil. It looks like even Iran may soon follow in the same path and start selling its oil and gas in rial instead of the dollar, dealing yet another blow to America.

The world market has not responded too badly to these changes. Yuan has risen on the news of Saudi Arabia contemplating receiving oil payment in the currency. Rouble, too, has recovered from the initial crash witnessed around the invasion. With news breaking about Russia firming up oil and gas supply deals in rouble, the currency rose from the low of 140 against one US dollar to 80 now. The US anguish over Russia not only slipping out of its fingers, but also succeeding in setting up an alternative payment mechanism at the cost of the dollar was apparent from the statement by US deputy NSA Daleep Singh. Singh, who was in India late last month, warned of "consequences for countries that actively attempt to circumvent or backfill the sanctions". He appealed against creating mechanisms that prop up the rouble and attempt to undermine the dollar-based financial system. Now that they have a taste of trading without involving the dollar, how far other nations will heed to Singh's warnings cannot be predicted.

NEED COOPERATION OF STATES TO FIGHT DRUGS

Hyderabad is no doubt on the fast track to development, but it is paying a heavy price for it. As the city buzzes with industries, including the booming IT sector and the thriving Tollywood, it is no wonder that drugs are making an insidious entry, enticing the offspring of the rich and influential. Not a day passes without authorities seizing ganja, hash oil and other psychotropic substances. To cap it all, a B.Tech student died of a drug overdose in Hyderabad recently.

On the night of April 2, the Telugu New Year's Day, the police unknowingly opened a can of worms when they raided a posh pub at a luxury hotel in Banjara Hills. In their raid, they rounded up about 150 youths and the next morning, all of them were let off. Those who were rounded up included the children of Tollywood heroes, a few IPS officers, politicians and businessmen. No samples were taken from any one of them and no tests were done. They were all pronounced innocent which led to criticism that the police let them off because they were from affluent and powerful sections. AIMIM president Asaduddin Owaisi, an ally of the TRS, found fault with the police on this count.

The raid on the pub has a familiar ring. In a crackdown on Tollywood in 2017, the excise department had summoned all its suspects to its office, recorded their statements and took their samples. But the investigation did not move further as all of them were declared innocent because they were victims of the drug trade and therefore not guilty. Raids on pubs and bars are only like administering a band-aid. There cannot be real progress unless the police strike at the roots, the sources of supply. It is possible only with the cooperation of the states from where the contraband arrives. Ganja, for instance, comes from AP and cocaine from Goa and Mumbai. Union Home Minister Amit Shah, at a meeting of the Narco Coordination Centre (NCORD) in December last year, stressed the need for better coordination among the enforcement agencies since drugs are a threat to national security. Not much has happened thereafter. He should know that actions speak louder than words.

While we debate the 'truth' of the feature film The Kashmir Files, why aren't its critics shouting out about the continued targeted attacks and killings of Hindus in Kashmir?

BITTEREST TRUTH OF HISTORY: RALIV, TSALIV YA GALIV

MAKARAND R PARANJAPE

Professor of English at JNU

SOUMYADIP SINHA

RIGHT IN THE MIDDLE

The success of Vivek Agnihotri and Pallavi Joshi's The Kashmir Files has, naturally, attracted its share of controversy and criticism. One standard complaint has been, "Oh, but it doesn't tell the truth fully." How can any single narrative tell the whole truth about our history? Such an expectation itself smacks of prejudice and animus.

Especially when the movie itself never claims to be a documentary. It is a feature film, with imaginary characters, but a storyline that is backed by a plethora of evidence. The latter includes press coverage, printed material, government records, oral testimony and a variety of other sources suggested eponymously. Three 'Kashmir Files' are actually shown in the movie at its turning point.

The files surface when its young protagonist, Krishna Pandit, struggles to find out what actually happened to his own family as well as the other Kashmiri Pandits in the Valley. It is only after he encounters the documentary proof of the massacres and forced exodus of his people from the land of their birth and ancestry that he is convinced. With Krishna, it is presumed the audience will also be persuaded.

Not so. Many have pointed to various errors, misportrayals, exaggerations, or omissions, as perceived by them, in the film. But while we debate the 'truth' of a feature film, why aren't its critics shouting out about the continued targeted attacks and killings of Hindus in Kashmir? What is so shocking and sad is that it is these outbursts of terrorism in the UT that loudly and clearly endorse the basic premise of the movie. That there was a planned ethnic cleansing, tantamount to genocide, of the Kashmiri Pandits in the erstwhile state of Jammu and Kashmir.

Worse, even today, these terrorists cannot be named openly for what they are but must be dubbed "militants" by the media. Likewise, their targets are euphemistically referred to as "minorities," not Hindus, Kashmiri Pandits or Sikhs. In this manner, the "militants vs minorities" discourse continues to water down, even whitewash or deny the attack on the fountainhead of Indian culture and civilisation, our beloved and revered Kashmir, which is already truncated and dismembered. The movie shows this quite graphically in the sawing of Sharada, the protagonist's mother, symbolic of Kashmir herself.

Let us look at some of these incidents of targeted killing to get a better sense of the ground reality. On April 3, two motorcycle-borne assailants fired on Sonu Kumar, a Kashmiri Pandit shopkeeper in Chotogam, Shopian district. The victim luckily survived because he was rushed to the army hospital in time. Kumar and his family have operated the medical store for decades.

They are one of three Hindu families that still remain in the village. His brother, in a video widely circulated over social media, complained that even the Hindu cremation ground and cemetery has not been spared. Land sharks have built right on top of it, signalling that Hindus will not be able to use it. If this is not ethnic cleansing and genocide, what is?

Just prior to that attack, seven people, including migrant workers from outside Kashmir in Lajoora village, Pulwama district, as well as two CRPF personnel were shot at. One of them, Head Constable Vishal Kumar, died in the terror strike on April 4 at Maisuma in Srinagar's Lal Chowk. Lt Governor Manoj Sinha issued a condolence message, "Strongly condemn the dastardly terror attack on civilians and CRPF personnel." But it cannot hide the fact that Hindus are unsafe in J&K even after the nullification of Article 370 and the subsequent turning of the state into a UT directly under Central rule.

> Hindus are unsafe in J&K even after the nullification of Article 370 and the turning of the state into a UT. ... According to government figures, between 30 and 40 innocents, nearly all of them Hindus or non-Muslims, have been killed every year in Kashmir since 2017

In the previous year, 2021, there was a spate of similar assaults, killings and grenade attacks. For instance, on October 7, Ramesh Pal Singh came to know of his wife's killing in a WhatsApp forward that showed a woman in a blue salwar kameez lying bleeding on the ground. A distraught Singh said, "I had never expected something like that to happen to ordinary people like us. I am still in shock." Singh was a bank employee while his slain wife, Supinder Kaur, the principal of a government school in the Idgah area of Srinagar. Both were Kashmiris. Deep Chand, another Kashmiri Hindu who taught in the same school, was also killed. Images of him in a puddle of blood, his mobile still in one hand, circulated on social media. Two terrorists had stormed into the school, killing its only two non-Muslims teachers. On October 5, ML Bindroo, a Kashmiri Pandit who owned a chain of medical stores and Virender Paswan, a golgappa vendor from Bihar, were shot dead. According to government figures, between 30 and 40 such innocents, nearly all of them Hindus or non-Muslims, have been killed in Kashmir since 2017. The death count in the killing fields of Kashmir runs as follows: 2017–40; 2018–39; 2019–36; 2020–33; 2021–38.

There is a bitter truth that these facts serve to underline, which the film The Kashmir Files dared to utter for the first time: Raliv, Tsaliv ya Galiv—convert, flee, or die. This truth is so horrifying and shocking to the modern Hindu—or Western, for that matter—mind that it refuses to see history through its lens. But this is the one simple and single explanation for what happened to territory after territory and country after country in the drive of the theologically-sanctioned conquests for zan, zar, zameen—wealth, women, and terrain.

It is this template, applied repeatedly, that explains how and why not a single pagan person is left in Arabia, not a single Zoroastrian in Iran, not a single Hindu in Afghanistan, and very soon, not a single Hindu will be left in Pakistan. Where there are no Hindu women left, whom will the men marry? Where there is not a single temple left, where will they worship? When there is not a single cremation ground left, where will they lay their dead to rest?

What sort of ideology legitimates the belief that the wealth, women and land of others belongs to you if you conquer or overpower them? It is that ideology that India must stand up against if it is to save its civilisation. Until we confront and overcome the challenge this truth poses, we will not have understood, let alone learned, the lessons that our history teaches us. When it comes to Kashmir, as Rakesh Kaul puts it, it is a perpetual tussle between Shariat Kashmir vs. Sharada Kashmir. We cannot stand on the sidelines. We must take sides.

ICONOGRAPHY IN INDIA AND THE EXPRESSION OF FAITH

NANDITHA KRISHNA

Historian, environmentalist and writer based in Chennai

After a two-year pandemic-caused hiatus, the Indian Art History Congress took place at Chennai this week, hosted by the C P Ramaswami Aiyar Foundation. The theme was Indian Iconography with special emphasis on regional developments. I was surprised that many people asked me what iconography was. Hence, it is the subject of this article.

An icon is a symbol of someone or something that is revered, or a religious representation of a spiritual ideal. It may be a person, like Nelson Mandela, who is revered for his life. It may be water, revered for its life-giving property, or a pipal tree for its oxygen production. But it is generally translated into an anthropomorphic symbol—paintings of Jesus Christ, statues of Hindu deities and so on. Iconography then becomes a study of the icon, its origin, symbolism and so on. Each region develops it differently. Bengal's Nateshwara is Tamil Nadu's Nataraja.

Iconography is as much a source for the study of history and social evolution as it is a portrayal of religious belief. One must question the symbolism surrounding each icon and the reasons for the deity's association with only a certain combination of attributes. Those aspects of social and economic life essential to a group of people were expressed in words as stories and in art as icons. The devotees venerated these aspects and surrounded them with an aura of supernaturalism, mystery and magic that developed into religion and ritual. Later generations regarded them as myths. Art reflects a social experience that becomes part of a cultural heritage, and iconography is a vital pulse. The Indian artist who employed the language of symbolism had to create a vision that could not only be understood by the poet's sharpened faculties, but also be recognised and appreciated by the devotees whom the creations were intended to serve. Thus iconography had to supersede the literate and speak to the illiterate whose faith in oral traditions was stored in their heads.

To understand the complexities of Indian iconography, it is necessary to refer to the myths associated with each icon. Mythology has been described as "the science of primitive man, his manner of explaining the universe". Natural phenomena inexplicable to him are explained by myths of gods and other supernatural beings. The mythical world is a direct reflection of the actual. The individual and his society are merged in a natural-divine cosmos, wherein myths are directly correlated to the maintenance of social and cosmic harmony. They represent a record of migrations, invasions, geographical and social changes; they are a page out of the history of humankind. They are directed towards the attainment and preservation of certain ends—rainfall, prosperity, health, children—and thus have a definite economic implication. Whatever is described as the action of the gods in heaven reflects actions on earth—the Heavenly Kingdom of Indra replicates the courts of ancient Hindu kings, that of Yuti, "the Ancient one of the Jade, who ruled the Chinese Heavens", was a replica of the Imperial Court at Peking. All their hopes, beliefs and aspirations reflected in myths are portrayed in the icons.

With the advance of civilisation, the primitive was coated with veneers of sophistication and often became unrecognisable, sometimes even deliberately so. One such example is found in the Roman Catholic cult of the Virgin Mother, a continuation of earlier Pagan traditions. While the later gloss may represent changing ideas and philosophical ideals, the earlier traditions correlate directly to the problems of life and survival.

> Each deity in the Hindu pantheon is associated with a certain combination of emblems and attributes, whose origin tells a tale. Vishnu holds the gada or club, a Neolithic weapon. Thus he must have been a Neolithic deity. When Durga kills Mahisha, the buffalo demon, it symbolises food producers defeating buffalo grazers

Each deity in the Hindu pantheon is associated with a certain combination of emblems, attributes, flora and fauna, whose origin tells a tale. To cite an example, Vishnu holds the gada or club, a Neolithic weapon. Thus he must have been an ancient Neolithic deity. The shankha or conch of Krishna was acquired after defeating Panchajana, a demon who lived in the waters in the form of the conch. Apparently, the people who revered the god had knowledge of the sea, while the association of the Panchajanya with Krishna and, later, Vishnu, may represent an actual historical event wherein the conquerors assumed the emblem of the conquered, like a totem. When Durga kills Mahisha, the buffalo demon, it symbolises the food producers defeating the buffalo grazers. The stories of the association of the various animal vehicles or vahanas with the deities record the assimilation of one tribe by another. This is equally true of Buddhism and Jainism.

The Bible says that God made man in his image, but it is man who made God in his image. Gods are but superhuman reflections of their worshippers who conceived them in the best forms they could envisage. Ganesha in Mumbai is a good example. When India won the World Cup, Ganesha posed with a bat and ball. When India detonated the bomb, Ganesha sat beside a bomb. The works of art also indicate the interdependence of societies. The simhavahana or lion vehicle of Durga first appears as the mount of the goddess in ancient Sumer. That the movement of ideas was not restricted is corroborated by so many such examples.

The symbols that were evolved with a purely utilitarian intent develop, through the course of their evolution, a vitality and dynamism. The artist's consciousness of reality, a developing one at that, qualifies the aesthetics of art, which determines the vitality of the work. The image, conceived for magical purposes, assumed a dynamism that the artist expresses. And this selective concentration on one or more aspects develops for the devotee an all-assuming significance. In the evolution of aesthetic comprehension and expression, we perceive the evolution of humankind's perception and sensitivity.

The agamas and shastras, which became the sources of Indian iconography, were formulated and compiled long after the earliest icons had come into existence and their final form established. In fact, the shastras merely laid down as unchangeable what earlier artists had created.

Hence iconography becomes a study of the development of the expression of faith and spiritualism—of social, human and sensory evolution. Thus, it is a part of the story of people, their lives, environment and devotion. The sum total forms the history of humankind.

Replace Lanka's leaders

The economic crisis in Sri Lanka is so miserable that the hapless people are running from pillar to post to eke out a living. The need of the hour is a change of guard in the island nation. The Rajapaksas need to be replaced with dynamic and visionary leaders who have the political will to bring the economy back on track. What India and China are doing to help will not be enough. The corruption at the head must be removed for any improvement to take place.

Military didn't intervene yet

Pakistan Prime Minister Imran Khan seemed to think he could run the country however he wanted, trying to dissolve the Assembly to outwit the opposition demand for a floor test. In a landmark verdict, the nation's Supreme Court unanimously struck down the deputy speaker's decision to reject the no-confidence motion against the PM. It is sheer providence that the nation's military did not intervene this time to usurp power.

CBI's actions concerning

That the chair of Amnesty International's India wing Aakar Patel was stopped from going abroad by the CBI despite clear instructions from the Delhi High Court not to stop him is uncalled for. The HC had quashed the Look Out circular issued against him and reprimanded the CBI for it, asking the body to submit a written apology for the misadventure. The CBI's actions despite this are unconstitutional and seem intentional. This is a cause for concern.

Dam committee happy

The Supreme Court's interim order on the Mullaperiyar dam dispute to appoint three more members—one each from Tamil Nadu, Kerala and the Centre—to the supervisory committee is a shot in the arm for the organisation. This has also given the committee additional powers under the Dam Safety Act, 2021, till the national authority becomes functional. Now the onus is on the Centre to ensure this order is not treated in a slipshod manner.

CPM not big enough

This is with reference to CPM must resolve Congress puzzle (Apr 8). The past record of the CPM in acting as a glue to stitch together alliances is not relevant any more. In the past, the CPM was big in West Bengal as well. Now, as it only has a decent presence in Kerala, it may not be strong enough to act as a catalyst between regional parties. There is also the matter of the strength of the BJP. The party has a very wide presence nationally, which will be quite hard to shake.

PAID BOOSTER SHOT FOR ADULTS FROM SUNDAY

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

FROM April 10, the booster dose of Covid-19 vaccine would be available for all aged 18 years and above at private vaccination centres, Union health ministry announced on Friday. The order means that unlike the free precaution shots announced for healthcare and frontline workers and 60-plus population, others will have to pay for the jab.

Serum Institute of India (SII) CEO Adar Poonawalla welcomed the decision and announced that Covishield would cost ₹600 plus taxes (same as before), while Covovax, once approved as a booster by the government, would be available for ₹900 plus taxes. Last month, India's drug regulator granted restricted emergency use authorisation to Covovax for the 12-17 age group, subject to certain conditions.

All 18-plus persons who have completed nine months of the second dose would be eligible for the booster shot. More than 2.4 crore precaution doses have been administered to healthcare workers, frontline workers and 60-plus people.

The health ministry said that so far, about 96 per cent of the 15-plus population in the country has received at least one dose of the Covid-19 vaccine and about 83 per cent has received both doses, while 45 per cent in the 12-14 age-group has received the first dose.

The ongoing free vaccination programme through government centres for the first and second doses for the eligible population and precaution quantities to healthcare workers, frontline workers and the 60-plus population would continue and would be accelerated.

TEAMS SENT TO 4 STATES TO VERIFY EX GRATIA CLAIMS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

COMPLYING with a Supreme Court order, the Union health ministry has rushed teams to Maharashtra, Gujarat, Andhra Pradesh and Kerala for random scrutiny of claims filed for Covid-19 ex gratia compensation.

The teams will examine on-field implementation of the ex gratia being paid as per the directions of the Supreme Court and guidelines issued by the National Disaster Management Authority. They will conduct random scrutiny of 5 per cent of applications for payment of ex gratia assistance.

The central teams will also ascertain the process followed for payment, examine details of cases approved or rejected and documents verified by the district authorities.

The court had on March 24 emphasised that making a false claim and/or producing a false certificate to avail of the compensation is liable for punishment under Section 52 of Disaster Management Act, 2005. State officials will assist the central teams. Under the ex gratia scheme, families of people, who died due to Covid-19 are entitled to ₹50,000.

'WHO order routine'

Professor Balram Bhargava, director general of the Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR), has said that the World Health Organisation (WHO) suspension of Covid-19 vaccine Covaxin is a "routine" matter and that its manufacturer Bharat Biotech is improving its facilities. "(It is a) routine thing that (has) happened. Inspection of the facilities is a routine," Bhargava said at an event on Thursday.

Foreign aid not absolute right: SC

Court upholds constitutional validity of Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Amendment Act

PRATHMA SHARMA @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday maintained that receiving foreign donations "cannot be an absolute or even a vested right", and upheld the constitutional validity of the Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Amendment Act, 2020, which imposes certain conditions on the receipt and use of funds by non-governmental organisations. The strict regime had become essential because of the past experience of abuse and misutilisation of foreign contribution, the court observed.

A Bench headed by Justice A M Khanwilkar and comprising Justices Dinesh Maheshwari and C T Ravikumar said permitting the inflow of foreign contribution, which is a donation, is a matter of policy of the State, backed by law, and it was open to the State to have a regime that may completely prohibit receipt of foreign donations as no right inheres in the citizen to receive foreign contributions.

"By its very expression, it is a reflection on the constitutional morality of the nation as a whole being incapable of looking after its own needs and problems," the bench said in its 132-page verdict.

Such foreign aid can "influence" the policies of the country and may tend to influence or impose a political ideology", the bench said and added that there was "no dearth of donors" in India.

Amendments to the FCRA Act 2010 came into effect in September 2020. On November 9 last year, the top court had reserved its verdict on a batch of petitions challenging the provisions of the amended Act prohibiting transfer of foreign funds (Section 7); requiring Aadhaar as identification for prior approval, registration etc. (Section 12A) and mandating opening of an FCRA account exclusively in a branch of State Bank of India in New Delhi.

CJI disturbed by 'trend' of maligning judges

New Delhi: The Supreme court on Friday termed it unfortunate the 'new trend' of governments maligning judges when orders are not to their liking. "This is a new trend where the government is maligning judges. This is unfortunate and we are seeing this in court too. This was resorted to by only private parties before this. It is unfortunate." Chief Justice of India NV Ramana said. He said this while hearing two special leave petitions filed by the Chhattisgarh government and an activist challenging a high court decision to quash an FIR against a former IAS officer for allegedly amassing wealth beyond known sources of income.

Rahul-Pilot meet fuels talk of bigger role

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

CONGRESS leader Rahul Gandhi on Friday met the party's former Rajasthan unit chief Sachin Pilot. The meeting at Rahul's residence sparked speculations about a bigger role for Pilot in Rajasthan.

The meeting comes amidst reports of differences between Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot and Pilot. Rajasthan goes to polls next year. Sources said Rahul and Pilot also discussed upcoming assembly elections in Himachal Pradesh and Gujarat.

"Pilot could get a bigger role in the party soon," said Congress sources. They added that Pilot's demand for a change in leadership in Rajasthan got a patient hearing from the former Congress president. In June 2020, Pilot as the Deputy CM of Rajasthan, had rebelled against Gehlot and threatened to split the party if not made the CM. But he could not muster enough MLA support and was convinced by the top leadership to work for the party. A committee was constituted to address his concerns.

Earlier in the day, Rahul met former JD (U) leader Sharad Yadav, who has been ailing for some time, and spoke about developing a 'framework's for opposition parties to come together against BJP. "Hatred is being spread and the country is being divided. We've to bring the nation together and once again walk on the path of the brotherhood which has been a part of our history," Rahul said.

Pitching for a united opposition, he said: "Parties that are against RSS and Narendra Modi should come together. Discussions are going on how they should come together, what should be the framework that has to be developed."

This comes amid news that West Bengal CM Mamata Banerjee and her Telangana counterpart KC Rao have reached out to non-Congress parties to discuss an alternative front to take on BJP in 2024. NCP chief Sharad Pawar and Tamil Nadu CM MK Stalin have also called for a united front.

Cong puts Kamal Nath at helm of MP panel

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

THREE days after deciding that state party chief Kamal Nath will continue to be Congress's CM face in the run-up to the Madhya Pradesh polls in 2023, the grand old party's state unit on Friday constituted a committee of senior leaders. This committee will meet every fortnight to chalk out the party's future course of action.

The committee is chaired by former CM Nath and has on board other senior leaders and ex-ministers from Nath's government that ruled Madhya Pradesh for 15 months after being voted to power in 2018.

Formed on the directions of the central leadership, the committee has among others, ex-CM Digvijaya Singh, ex-state unit heads Kantilal Bhuria, Suresh Pachauri, Arun Yadav and former Leader of Opposition Ajay Singh Rahul. Ex-ministers Arif Aqeel, Jeetu Patwari and Nath loyalists Sajjan Verma, Vijaylaxmi Sadho, Lakhan Ghanghoriya also found berths in the committee. It also has Rajya Sabha MPs Rajmani Patel and Vivek Tankha.

According to senior party leader KK Mishra, the committee will take all political decisions with an eye on returning to power. "This will prove that claims of one leader calling the shots in Madhya Pradesh Congress are wrong. All decisions will be taken after consulting senior leaders," he said.

On Monday, at a meeting of senior leaders of the party in Bhopal, ex-CM Digvijaya had proposed Nath's name as the party's unanimous choice for CM ahead of next year's polls. It is not clear yet whether Nath will continue to be the state unit chief and Leader of Opposition in the Assembly or step down from one of those posts.

A seat TMC has never captured

From 1957 to 1967, Asansol belonged to Congress. From 1967 to 1971, it was under the control of Samyukta Socialist Party. From 1971 to 1980, CPI(M) held the seat before Congress made a comeback which continued till 1989. From then till 2014, the seat belonged to CPI(M). BJP emerged as the new force in the coal belt for the first time in 2014

Actor vs designer in coal belt face-off

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

THE mercury is rising in Asansol. The city in West Bengal's coal belt is not only in the middle of a scorching summer, but also about a witness an intense Lok Sabha by-poll battle between a Bollywood star and a fashion designer on April 12.

Eying a first victory in this constituency, Trinamool Congress has fielded Shatrughan Sinha. And, in an attempt to retain the seat where it has won the two previous elections, BJP has opted for Agnimitra Paul. The seat has been vacated by singer Babul Supriyo, who defected to TMC after having won on a BJP ticket in 2019. This is a seat with a considerable number of non-Bengali voters.

The TMC is desperate to win. Party chief Mamata Banerjee will hold a roadshow on April 10. "Asansol is a big challenge for her. TMC has not lost after coming to power for a third straight term in 2021. In by elections in four Assembly seats, TMC won all and snatched two from BJP. Asansol has become a prestige issue," said a senior TMC leader. "Fielding Sinha is a move to impress the non-Bengali voters who supported BJP in 2019," he added.

Citing the 2019 elections when Supriyo defeated TMC's candidate and actress Moon Moon Sen, West Bengal BJP president Sukanta Majumdar said the move to field another star would be rejected by the voters. "She accused us of being outsiders. This time, she has fielded an outsider. People will not accept it," he said.

Supriyo, too, will be fighting on April 12, from the Ballygunge Assembly seat which is vacant following the death of TMC's Subrata Mukherjee.

BJP to play 'social justice' card for Gujarat elections

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

BUOYED by the success in Assembly elections in four states earlier this year, BJP is gearing up to retain Gujarat, which goes to polls towards the end of this year. The plan is to highlight schemes and achievements of the government.

Gujarat is likely to see a triangular battle r this time. Other than BJP and Congress, AAP is also in the fray. Traditionally, elections in the state have been fought in the name of religion and caste. This time, BJP has changed its plan and decided to highlight the developmental work done by the government. As part of the plan, the party will observe "Samajik Nyay Pakhdeva" (Social Justice Fortnight) from April 7-20.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi is likely to visit Gujarat for two days later this month and address public rallies in Saurashtra and north Gujarat. He is also likely to visit the tribal-dominated district of Dahod. Union Home Minister Amit Shah will also visit Gujarat on April 10 and 11.

Then, Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya will lay the foundation stone of the Global Centre for Traditional Medicine in Kutch on April 13.

BJP spokesperson Rutvij Patel said, "On April 7, promotion of Ayushyaman Bharat Yojana started. Promotion of PM Awas Yojana started today (April 8). Similar programmes on Nal Se Jal Yojana will start on April 9. After that, the free Covid vaccination scheme promotion will be launched on April 12."

All these programmes will be attended by party MLAs, MPs and Cengtral ministers. By talking about the benefits of these schemes, BJP wants to protray a people-friendly image, which it thinks, worked in its favour in Uttar Pradesh. It has to be seen to what extent this ploy works in Gujarat.

Order in Patel's favour stayed, can't leave country without permission

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

A special CBI court on Friday stayed Thursday's order passed by Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Pawan Kumar asking the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) director to send an apology to former Amnesty International India chief and columnist Aakar Patel.

Special CBI judge Santosh Snehi Mann also ordered that Patel cannot leave India without its permission. "In the facts and circumstances, it is deemed just and proper to stay operation of the order vis-a-vis direction to the Director, CBI, to give written apology. Respondent Aakar Patel is directed not to leave the country without permission of this court, till the next date of hearing," the court order added.

The order was passed on a revision application filed by CBI against an order passed by the ACMM, who had set aside a lookout circular issued by CBI against Patel.

On Thursday, ACMM Kumar had granted relief to Patel, and had asked the CBI to withdraw the lookout circular issued against him and apologise for restraining him from boarding a US-bound flight from Bengaluru on Wednesday.

In its submission, CBI challenged the impugned order on three counts — merit of the order with respect to setting aside of lookout circular, observations made with respect to working/functioning of the agency in issuance of the circular and direction to the CBI director to apologise.

Sisodia's claim refuted by ex-CM

Hamirpur (HP): Former Himachal Pradesh Chief Minister Prem Kumar Dhumal on Friday said AAP leader Manish Sisodia made 'fun' of himself when he said BJP was going to change its leadership in the state. Sisodia had said BJP may replace Himachal Pradesh CM Jai Ram Thakur, under fear of rising popularity of the AAP in the state. Dhumal said the AAP leader was making an 'absurd' statement because he was upset that his party's rally in in Mandi on Wednesday was a 'flop show' attended by few

Arrest seer threatening rape, DGP told

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Lucknow

THE National Commission for Women on Friday issued a notice to the Uttar Pradesh DGP seeking the arrest of a seer who called for abducting and raping Muslim women.

The video of Bajrang Muni Das, mahant of Maharshi Shri Lakshman Das Udasin Ashram in Khairabad, delivering the hate speech while his listeners cheering and clapping over his comments, has been doing the rounds in social media since Thursday.

In the letter to DGP Mukul Goel, NCW chairperson Rekha Sharma said: "The National Commission for Women has come across a Twitter post containing the video of priest Bajrang Muni threatening to kidnap and rape Muslim women while addressing a gathering in Sitapur district of Uttar Pradesh. It is reported that police personnel were also present at the location, however, none of them stopped him from making such an outrageous statement against women."

The NCW chief said the commission has taken a serious note of the incident and condemns the statement made by the seer. "The police should not be a mute spectator in such incidents and appropriate measures must be taken by them to curb people from using such outrageous language against women," the letter read, a copy of which has been sent to the Sitapur Superintendent of Police. The panel also asked the police to inform it about the action taken in seven days.

According to Sitapur SP Rajeev Dixit, after the video of Bajrang Muni went viral, the police registered a case against him under relevant sections of the IPC at Khairabad police station. "Evidence is being collected in this case and strict action will be taken against the culprit," he said.

Vyapam whistleblower moves SC after his arrest

Appeals against HC order dismissing his plea for quashing of FIR

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi/Bhopal

The Vyapam scam whistleblower, Indore-based Dr Anand Rai, on Friday moved Supreme Court after his arrest by Bhopal police from a hotel in Delhi on Thursday late night. The SC agreed to hear on April 11 his petition challenging the Madhya Pradesh High Court order dismissing his plea for quashing of the FIR and vacating its order granting him interim protection from arrest.

A bench of Chief Justice N V Ramana and Justices Krishna Murari and Hima Kohli took note of the submissions made by senior advocate Vivek Tankha, appearing for Rai, that he had been arrested even as the main accused was out on bail. He added that the arrest was made despite a notice to appear and join the investigation before the police on Friday.

"...The manner and haste with which the present FIR has been lodged and police machinery has been abused shows mala fides of the State because the State has had an axe to grind against the petitioner for quite some time since the petitioner has been a whistleblower in Vyapam and other scams and has been highlighting public causes," the petition said.

Rai's arrest came two days after the MP High Court dismissed his petition seeking quashing of the FIR. Rai had come to Delhi to file an appeal but was arrested before he could move the SC.

Interestingly, he had also announced to make a major disclosure on Friday regarding alleged irregularities and question paper leak in the MP Teachers Eligibility Test (MPTET), conducted by the tainted Vyapam, now known as Staff Selection Board.

The FIR against Rai and Congress leader KK Mishra was lodged in March by Laxman Singh Markam, deputy secretary at the CM Secretariat, over an allegedly defamatory Facebook post. Mishra, the main accused, had alleged that the question paper ofr MPTET, held on March 25, was leaked from the phone of 'Laxman Singh'.

Not only was Rai, a state government ophthalmologist, arrested under SC/ST Atrocities (Prevention) Act lodged against him by Markam, but was also suspended with immediate effect from the post of medical officer at Indore's Hukumchand Hospital for dereliction of duty and undue absence from work. After his arrest on Thursday night, Rai was taken to Bhopal and produced before a local court, which remanded him in police custody for a day.

Held before making 'big' announcement

After his arrest on Thursday night, Rai was taken to Bhopal and produced before a local court, which remanded him in police custody for a day. Rai's arrest in the case came just two days after the HC dismissed his petition and a few hours before he had announced to make a big disclosure regarding the MPTET

Mantras in jails to do 'healing' work

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

JAILS in Uttar Pradesh will soon resonate with mantras as the Yogi Adityanath government has decided to play Gayatri Mantra and Mahamrityunjaya Mahamantra to ensure "spiritual healing" of the prisoners.

Issuing instructions in this regard to prison authorities across the state on Friday, UP Jail Minister Dharmveer Prajapati asked them to play the mantras after morning prayers as the "holy chants would help reduce the inmates' stress and improve the atmosphere inside jails".

"India is a country of believers. I believe that recitation of mantra, prayers and katha (spiritual stories) purifies and sanctifies the atmosphere. I have directed the jail authorities across the state to play Gayatri Mantra or Mahamrityunjaya Jaap after morning prayers. The government believes that prisoners will benefit from the recitations. They will realise the mistake which landed them in jail," said the minister.

He said the intention was to turn the prisoners into better citizens. "The government will also try to organise spiritual programmes on the jail premises from time to time," added the minister.

In another order, the state government banned plastic bottles and plastic goods inside jails. The government has also decided to introduce a virtual system for meeting prisoners.

The minister has also asked the officials to set up a toll-free number for registering complaints related to the prison department.

More cow sheds to check strays

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Lucknow

AIMING to find a permanent solution to the stray cattle menace, a major plank of opposition parties in the recent Assembly polls, the UP government has decided to launch a scheme to set up cow sheds across 200 Assembly constituencies in the state.

According to the minister for animal husbandry, dairy and minority welfare, Dharampal Singh, each of the upcoming gaushala will have the capacity to host around 5,000 cattle. These shelters will be established on vacant government lands or non-cultivable plots. "If any such land is found to be under illegal occupation, we will get it vacated," said the minister.

He further said a model cow shed will be set up in Aonla Assembly segment. According to a senior state government official, besides establishing more gaushalas, the state will implement the PM Govardhan Yojna at block levels across UP. Under this scheme, cow dung would be used for commercial purposes such as generating power and producing bio-fertilizer and cooking gas.

Sources said various breeds of cows will be housed together. The expenses for the maintenance of cow sheds would be met through the sale of milk and dairy products, cow dung and cow urine.

Cops plan 24x7 CCTV watch in J&K to foil terror strikes

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THE Jammu and Kashmir Police are planning to cover the entire Union Territory under 24x7 CCTV surveillance to ensure efficient law and order and foil militant attacks. These high-resolution CCTVs would be capable of detecting crowds, defining the number of persons in the crowd and identifying their gender, among others.

The development comes in the wake of recent targeted attacks on migrant workers and civilians by militants.

The police headquarters has floated tenders for CCTV surveillance system worth ₹57 crore. These cameras will also have capabilities such as automatic number plate recognition (ANPR) and facial recognition.

"The CCTV cameras will assist in achieving a 24x7 eye on the ground, identifying and nabbing anti-national elements and criminals, creating a centralised database of criminals and most-wanted," the police said. In Kashmir, CCTV surveillance would be set up at 43 sites while in Jammu, it will be installed at 119 sites.

The family head, Anees Mian Guddu, a resident of Bhoorbangla, is the member of the BJP and worked for the party in the recent state elections.

Police personnel in a scuffle with MSRTC employees outside the residence of Sharad Pawar in Mumbai on Friday | PTI

Striking MSRTC employees throw stones at Pawar's house

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

OVER 100 striking employees of Maharashtra State Road Transport Corporation (MSRTC) staged a protest outside NCP chief Sharad Pawar's residence Silver Oak on Friday noon, accusing him of not doing anything to address their grievances.

The employees, who have been protesting at Azad Maidan to press for merger of MSRTC with the government, suddenly decided to march to Pawar's residence. They tried to break through the security cordon and threw stones and shoes at his house and scuffled with the police personnel.

While Pawar remained inside, his daughter and MP Supriya Sule came out and tried to pacify the protesters. She appealed to them to sit and discuss what they wanted. "I am grateful to Mumbai Police that they rushed and averted a major untoward incident," Sule later said. Pawar said he was behind the MSRTC employees but not their "wrong leadership".

Police initially seemed to have been taken by surprise, but later removed the protesters from the spot and registered a case against 107 people. Later in the day, advocate Gunwant Sadhavarte was taken into custody. He was spearheading the protest at Azad Maidan and had allegedly been making inflammatory speeches and provoking MSRTC employees.

The Maharashtra government has ordered a high-level inquiry into the incident. Home minister Dilip Walse Patil said Pawar's residence was a well-protected zone, yet the protestors managed to reach there. "We will check whether it was intelligence failure of the police. This must be a larger conspiracy. No one will be spared," he said.

Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray said strict action would be taken against those involved. His son and Shiv Sena leader Aaditya Thackeray, ministers and other leaders later met the NCP chief.

Former CM and Leader of Opposition Devendra Fadnavis also condemned the attack, but some other BJP leaders said the Maha Vikas Aghadi should ponder over why such an incident took place.

CBI gets more time to oppose plea of Lalu in fodder case

RANCHI: The Jharkhand High Court on Friday deferred the hearing into a petition filed by RJD chief Lalu Prasad challenging his conviction in a fodder scam case.

Seventy-three-year-old Prasad is in custody following his conviction and sentence by a CBI court in February in a fodder scam case involving embezzlement of over ₹139 crore from Doranda treasury.

He was sentenced to five years in prison and slapped a fine of ₹60 lakh by a special CBI court in Ranchi in connection with the fifth fodder scam case.

Justice Aparesh Kumar Singh was informed by CBI, which is investigating the scam that the earlier order of the court to file a counter affidavit in the matter could not be complied with by the agency and pleaded for more time.

The case will now be heard on April 22.

Prasad's counsel Kapil Sibbal told the court that his client has already served more than half of the sentence of five years in prison in the case and deserves to be released from custody. On February 21 he was sentenced to five years imprisonment and fined ₹60 lakh in the fodder scam case.

Prasad had held the finance portfolio of undivided Bihar during the period of the scam. He had allegedly received heavy kickbacks through the animal husbandry department. ENS

Jharkhand HC issues notice to CM Soren for holding mining lease

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

THE Jharkhand High Court on Friday issued a notice to Chief Minister Hemant Soren for holding a mining lease in Angara block in Ranchi even as he handles the mining portfolio in the state cabinet. The HC was hearing a PIL filed by one Shiv Shankar Sharma seeking probe into how Soren, despite being in control of the mining department in the state, obtained a mining lease.

According to petitioner's counsel Advocate Rajiv Kumar, the HC has asked the CM to furnish the details of the lease. "Chief Justice Dr Ravi Ranjan and Justice Sujit Narayan Prasad termed it a 'serious matter' and ordered to issue a notice to Chief Minister Hemant Soren, asking to file an affidavit in this regard. The state government will also have to file an affidavit separately in the matter," said Kumar. During the hearing, the court observed that it seems 'all is not well' in the mining department, he added.

According to the PIL, Soren obtained a lease of 0.88 acres in Angara block and a 'Letter of Intent' issued by the Ranchi District Mining Office on June 16, 2021. The petition added that on September 9, Soren applied for environmental clearance of the said mine and by September 18, the clearance was given by the State Environment Impact Assessment Authority. Incidently, Soren also holds the Department of Environment and Forests.

Advocate Rajiv Kumar has also filed an interlocutory application (IA), seeking to ensure his safety alleging that he is facing threats. After the petition was filed, Kumar said, Ranchi Deputy Commissioner Chhavi Ranjan called him to his official residence and threatened of dire consequences.

During the Friday's hearing, the advocate general told the court that the state had committed a mistake and the lease had since been surrendered. He also assured the court that the state would file a detailed affidavit explaining its stand over the issue.

Chief Justice Dr Ravi Ranjan and Justice Sujit Narayan Prasad termed it a 'serious matter' and ordered to issue a notice to Chief Minister Hemant Soren, asking to file an affidavit in this regard. The state government will also have to file an affidavit — Petitioner's counsel

Bureaucrat's Gandhigiri pacifies agitating officials

Muktsar Sahib Deputy Commissioner Harpreet Singh Sudan was in the news recently after he raised slogans against himself while expressing solidarity with protesting officials of the revenue department. The officials were on protest after farmers had held their colleagues on hostage. A video of incident had gone viral in which the 2013 batch Indian Administrative Service (IAS) officer was seen sitting on the floor in front of the agitating group in the district administration complex. He then asked the officials to send a delegation of five members to his office and submit their demands so that he could amicably solve their issue. His gesture pacified the staff as they ended their strike.

Chief minister meets women MLAs of AAP

Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann recently met women MLAs of the Aam Aadmi Party. Those present in the meeting included Narinder Kaur Bharaj, Anmol Gagan Mann, Baljinder kaur, Sarbajit Kaur Manuke, Dr Baljit Kaur, Neena Mittal, Amandeep Kaur Arora besides others. A woman MLA said that Chief Minister Mann had said that he would meet all the legislators but decided to meet the women legislators first. Out of the 13 women MLAs in the state Assembly 11 are from the AAP and one each from Congress and SAD. After meeting the chief minister many women MLAs posted their picture with the CM on their social media accounts.

IPS officer to probe stripping incident in MP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

A day after viral pictures of a group of protesters and a local scribe being stripped in Sidhi police station in Madhya Pradesh created a furor, state DGP Sudhir Kumar Saxena tasked a senior IPS officer to probe the incident.

Meanwhile, a senior officer at the police headquarters told this newspaper that the episode caused serious damage to the police's public image. "Particularly, a senior officer justifying on camera the stripping act and stating that such things are done to prevent any possibility of suicide by those in detention has dented the MP police's image badly. How can anyone justify the stripping act with not one, but eight men, including a scribe, in custody?" the senior officer said, referring to a ADG-level official justifying the incident in front of the media.

Assam students' outfit revives Bodoland demand

PRASANTHA MAZUMDAR
@ Guwahati

A students' outfit has revived the 'Bodoland' statehood demand in Assam amid the BJP's tall claims about resolving the Bodo problem through the signing of Bodoland Territorial Region (BTR) pact.

In a memorandum submitted to Prime Minister Narendra Modi through the Kokrajhar district magistrate, the newly formed Bodo National Students' Union (BoNSU) said the Centre had, over the past 30 years, signed three peace accords with the Bodo leadership but failed to fulfill the Bodo aspirations.

BoNSU president Bonjit Manjil Basumatary said their struggle for right to self-determination has its genesis in the British rule. "As early as 1930s, Gurudev Kalicharan Brahma, the then leader of the Bodos, had submitted a memorandum to the Simon Commission demanding a political setup for the indigenous and tribal people of Assam. However, his demand for political administration was ignored by the British Raj. Even in the post-Independence era, such demands were not met by the successive governments," Basumatary said.

The Assam government had formed the Bodoland Autonomous Council but the Bodos said it had failed to fulfill their aspirations. Another accord, signed with insurgent group Bodo Liberation Tigers in 2003, had led to the creation of autonomous Bodoland Territorial Council (BTC) but the movement continued. The BTR accord was signed in January 2020 with ABSU and four insurgent groups.

ED summons five 'confidants' of Nagaland CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Guwahati

THE Enforcement Directorate summoning five persons from Nagaland — believed to be close confidants of Chief Minister Neiphiu Rio — in a money laundering case has raised a political storm in the Northeastern state where the BJP is part of the ruling coalition.

One of the summoned is Rio's personal assistant in the Chief Minister's Office (CMO). The opposition Rising People's Party (RPP) has asked the CM to clear the air.

According to the RPP, the biggest shocker was that Kuovisieo Rio, appointed in the CMO as the personal assistant to Rio, was one of the five persons summoned to appear before the ED in Guwahati. The party alleged that apart from Kuovisieo Rio, the four others were also close confidants of the CM.

Russian strike kills 50 at Ukraine train station

5 children among the dead, says Donetsk regional guv. Thousands had flocked Kramatorsk train station to flee war

KRAMATORSK

AT least 50 persons were killed in Friday's air strike at a crowded rail station in eastern Ukraine's contested Donbas region.

A Russian missile hit the Kramatorsk city train station where thousands of people had flocked to flee the war, Ukrainian authorities said.

Photos from the scene showed bodies covered with tarps on the ground and the remnants of a rocket with the words 'For the children' painted on it in Russian.

About 4,000 civilians were in and around the station, the office of Ukraine's prosecutor-general said, adding that most were women and children heeding calls to leave the area before Russia launches a full-scale offensive in the country's east.

The Russian Defence Ministry, however, denied attacking the station, but President Volodymyr Zelenskyy and other Ukrainian leaders accused Russia's military of deliberately targeting a location where only civilians were assembled.

'The inhuman Russians are not changing their methods. Without the strength or courage to stand up to us on the battlefield, they are cynically destroying the civilian population,' the president said on social media. "This is an evil without limits. And if it is not punished, then it will never stop."

Britain's Defence Minister Ben Wallace said the striking of civilians and critical infrastructure was a war crime.

"These were precision missiles aimed at people trying to seek humanitarian shelter," Wallace said.

Pavlo Kyrylenko, the regional governor of Donetsk, which lies in the Donbas, said that 50 people were killed, including five children, and many dozens more were wounded. AP

RUSSIA BLAMES KYIV FOR DEADLY ATTACK

The Russian defence ministry accused Kyiv of carrying out the deadly attack. "The purpose of the Kyiv regime's attack on the railway station was to disrupt the mass exodus of residents from the city to use them as human shield to defend the positions of Ukraine's Armed Fores," the Russian defence ministry said.

Russia, Ukraine willing to hold talks: Turkish official

Istanbul: Russia and Ukraine are willing to move forward with talks. despite images of bodies found in the Ukrainian town of Bucha, but there are "issues pending", a Turkish official said on Friday. "Both Russia and Ukraine are willing to hold the talks in Turkey but they are far away from agreeing on a common text," the official said. There was no date fixed for the next round of negotiations, said the official.

Japan expels Russian diplomats, to ban imports

Tokyo: Japan is expelling eight Russian diplomats and trade officials and will phase out imports of Russian coal and oil. PM Fumio Kishida said Friday that Moscow must be held accountable for 'war crimes' in Ukraine. He said Japan will ban imports of Russian lumber, vodka and other goods, and prohibit new Japanese investment in Russia. It will also step up sanctions against Russian banks.

Germany offers aid to businesses hit by war

Berlin: Germany on Friday unveiled a package of loans and other financial aid for companies hit by the war in Ukraine and sanctions on Russia. The package includes loans of 100 billion euros to cover the credit risks taken by Germany's energy industry as the country scrambles to replace imports of Russian oil, gas and coal. Affected companies will also be able to apply for limited grants to cover increased energy costs.

Food prices at record high due to war, says UN

Rome: Prices for world food items like grains and vegetable oils reached their highest levels ever last month due to fallout from the war, the UN has said. Its Food and Agriculture Organization on Friday said the Food Price Index, which tracks monthly changes in international prices for several commodities, came in at 159.3 points in March, up 12.6% from February's all-time high since the index was created in 1990.

Sri Lanka hikes interest rates as protests spiral

COLOMBO

CASH-STRAPPED Sri Lanka's central bank hiked interest rates by a record 700 basis points on Friday as police fired tear gas at hundreds of students protesting over the economic crisis.

Severe shortage of food and fuel, alongside lengthy electricity blackouts, have led to weeks of widespread anti-government demonstrations, with calls for President Gotabaya Rajapaksa to resign. The latest protests saw students try to march to the national parliament on Friday.

Monks, who had largely rallied the Sinhala-Buddhist majority to elect Rajapaksa at the November 2019 polls, were also seen joining demonstrations in the capital Colombo.

Demonstrators nationwide carried placards saying "Gota go home", demanding Rajapaksa and his administration step down over the country's worst economic crisis since independence in 1948.

The Central Bank of Sri Lanka said its benchmark lending rate had been raised to 14.5 percent to "stabilise the exchange rate" after the rupee tumbled over 35 percent in a month.

The rate for deposits was also increased by seven percentage points to 13.5 percent as reports said Sri Lanka's rupee was the worst-performing currency in the world. The bank's newly appointed governor, Nandalal Weerasinghe, said attempts to control foreign exchange markets and keep interest rates artificially low in the past year had contributed to the unprecedented economic chaos. AFP

EU, Britain impose sanctions on Putin's daughters

BRUSSELS

THE European Union and Britain have imposed sanctions on two adult daughters of Russian President Vladimir Putin. Maria Vorontsova and Katerina Tikhonova were included in the EU and Britain's list of individuals facing assets freeze and travel ban.

Britain also imposed sanctions on Yekaterina Vinokurova, daughter of Russian Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov. The imposing of sanctions follows a similar move two days earlier by the United States.

Katerina Tikhonova

Maria Vorontsova

In the wake of evidence of torture and killings emerging from war zones outside Kyiv, the EU decided to impose a fifth package of measures. "These sanctions were adopted following the atrocities committed by Russian armed forces in Bucha and other places under Russian occupation," said Josep Borrell, the EU's top diplomat.

"The aim of our sanctions is to stop the reckless and inhuman behaviour of the Russian troops and make clear to the decision makers in the Kremlin that their illegal aggression comes at a heavy cost."

In addition to sanctions on individuals and members of their families, oligarchs and high-ranking Kremlin officials, the 27-nation bloc also formally approved on Friday an embargo on coal imports starting in August, as well as a full transaction ban on four key Russian banks representing 23% of market share in Russian banking sector. Britain says it has sanctioned over 1,200 Russian individuals and businesses since the invasion of Ukraine on Feb 24. AP

Israel PM gives security forces free hand after deadly Tel Aviv attack

TEL AVIV

ISRAELI Prime Minister Naftali Bennett gave security agencies full freedom on Friday to curb a surge in violence, after a Palestinian gunman killed three men in a popular nightlife district. "There are not and will not be limits for this war," Bennett said, hours after Thursday night's attack in Tel Aviv. "We are granting full freedom of action to the army, the Shin Bet (the domestic security agency) and all security forces in order to defeat the terror," he said.

The Palestinian Islamist movement Hamas, which controls the Gaza Strip, and the Islamic Jihad group praised the attack but did not claim responsibility. After an all night manhunt, Israeli police said they shot dead a Palestinian gunman who had opened fire on a street of crowded bars and restaurants, killing three people and wounding over a dozen others.

Some 1,000 heavily armed police and army troops had fanned out across Tel Aviv to track the assailant, as residents cowered in restaurant kitchens or their homes.

Defence Minister Benny Gantz said officers had made "around 200 arrests", adding: "If necessary there will be thousands." Israeli childhood friends Tomer Morad and Eytam Magini, both 27, were killed late Thursday. On Friday, Barak Lufan, died of his injuries. AFP

Panel to probe 'foreign conspiracy' against govt

Islamabad: The government has set up a commission led by Lieutenant General (retired) Tariq Khan to investigate the alleged 'foreign conspiracy' behind the no-confidence motion against embattled Prime Minister Imran Khan, a senior minister said on Friday. The decision to constitute the commission was taken in the cabinet meeting chaired by Prime Minister Khan, Minister for Information Fawad Chaudhry said. He said the government will present the contents of the threat letter, which purportedly contains "evidence" of a foreign conspiracy hatched to oust Prime Minister Khan in the National Assembly on Saturday. "The commission will investigate where the conspiracy was hatched and who were the local handlers of the conspiracy to topple the government," he said. PTI

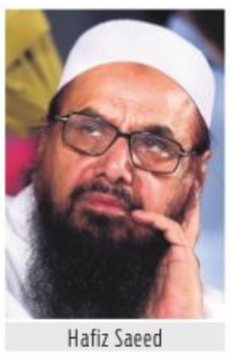
Pak court sentences 26/11 mastermind Hafiz in 2 more terror financing cases

LAHORE

AN anti-terrorism court in Pakistan on Friday sentenced Mumbai terror attack mastermind and banned Jamat-ud-Dawa (JuD) chief Hafiz Saeed to 32 years in jail in two more terror financing cases.

Earlier in five such cases, the 71-year-old radical cleric had already been convicted for 36 years imprisonment in five terror financing cases.

The total sentence of 68 years imprisonment will run concurrently. Saeed may have to spend not many years in jail because his sentence will run concurrently, a lawyer told PTI.



Hafiz Saeed

ARRESTED IN 2019

Hafiz Saeed, a UN-designated terrorist on whom US has placed a $10mn million bounty, was arrested in July 2019 in the terror financing cases.

On Friday, anti-terrorism court (ATC) judge Ejaz Ahmad Bhuttar handed down 32 years jail term to Saeed in two FIRs - 21/2019 and 90/2019 registered by the Counter Terrorism Department of Punjab Police, a court official told PTI. In the 21/2019 and 99/2021 cases, he was sentenced for 15.5 years and 16.5 years, respectively, the official added.

The court also imposed a fine of PKR 340,000 on Saeed.

He was brought to the court from the Kot Lakhpat Jail in Lahore where he has been imprisoned since 2019 under strict security, the official said.

Saeed, a UN-designated terrorist on whom the US has placed a $10 million bounty, was arrested in July 2019 in the terror financing cases.

Saeed-led JuD is the front organisation for the Lashkar-e-Taiba (LeT) which is responsible for carrying out the 2008 Mumbai attack that killed 166 people, including six Americans. The US Department of the Treasury has designated Saeed as a Specially Designated Global Terrorist.

The global terror financing watchdog Financial Action Task Force (FATF) is instrumental in pushing Pakistan to take measures against terrorists roaming freely in Pakistan and using its territory to carry out attacks in India. PTI

IHC to invest $2 bn in Adani firms

The Abu Dhabi-based co will invest ₹3,850 cr in AGEL, ₹3,850 cr in ATL & ₹7,700 cr in AEL

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

ABU Dhabi-based conglomerate International Holding Company (IHC) is investing $2 billion in three companies owned by Asia's richest billionaire Gautam Adani. The investment will come as primary capital through the preferential allotment route.

IHC will invest ₹3,850 crore in Adani Green Energy Ltd (AGEL), ₹3,850 crore in Adani Transmission Ltd (ATL) and ₹7,700 crore in Adani Enterprises Ltd (AEL).

The transaction is expected to be completed in a month; after all necessary approvals are obtained. The boards of AGEL, ATL and AEL have already approved the transaction and the investment is subject to shareholder and regulatory approvals.

The capital, according to the Adani firms, will be utilized for pursuing the growth of the respective businesses and strengthening of the balance sheet and for general corporate purposes.

Syed Basar Shueb, CEO and Managing Director of IHC, said that this will be a long-term investment in India as the country is driving much innovation globally, including the green energy sector "The opportunity to earn a compelling return on investment in green energy has never been greater. We are confident that Adani companies will play a significant role in unleashing India's total green energy potential, reflecting positively on our shareholders' commitment," he said.

Talking about the Group's green energy mission, Chairman Gautam Adani had last year announced the Group's plan to invest $20 billion in 10 years to become the world's largest renewable power generating company. The group has already made numerous progress in this space, including the $3.5 billion acquisition of SB Energy India.

Following the investment announcement, shares of Adani Enterprises gained 3.44% to close at ₹2170.70. Shares of ATL gained 3.41% to ₹2542 and shares of AGEL gained 7.37% to ₹2323.95.

10-year bond yields breach 7%, first time since July 2019

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

YIELDS on 10-year government bonds breached 7% levels for the first time since June 2019 after the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) said that it is now prioritizing inflation over growth.

The 10-year bonds closed the day at 7.12% gaining almost 20 basis points from its Thursday close of 6.914%. Bond yields rise in expectation of a likely increase in interest rates or withdrawal of excess liquidity from the market.

"More than what was announced in the policy rates, it is the governor's statement that inflation takes precedence over growth, and the fact that it raised the inflation estimates the bond moved yields upward," says Alok Singh, chief investment officer, BoI AXA Mutual Fund.

The RBI governor said that the central bank is finally changing its long-held policy stance of growth over inflation to inflation over growth, given the geopolitical tensions prevalent in Europe.

Though rise in government bond yields is significant as several small savings schemes are linked to these rates. However, it is unlikely that it will have any bearings on deposit or lending rates immediately as transmission takes time.

The RBI governor also said that the government is gradually moving away from an ultra-accommodative stance to an accommodative stance. As a step towards this, the introduced Standing Deposit Facility (SDF) – a tool through which it can absorb excess cash from banks without having to give them government securities in collateral.

The SDF rate will be 25 bps below the policy rate (repo rate of 4%). The Marginal Standing Facility (MSF) rate will continue to be 25 bps above the policy repo rate.

'No rupee-rouble payment platform yet'

The RBI has refuted reports that it is facilitating any rupee-rouble payment platform. The RBI governor Shaktikanta Das said that it is not working on any such payment system, and that it will not do anything that goes against the global sanctions on Russia. The governor reiterated that the Central bank will have to be sensitive to the sanctions. The governor, however, admitted both importers and exporters are facing problems in making payment (for trades with Russia) and they have made representation with both the government and the RBI. He said as and when any (alternate) system is worked out, it will make an announcement, but for now no such system has been in place. The government has in parliament said that an inter-ministerial group led by the finance ministry is seeing how the payments issue can be addressed.

FM SAYS NO ALTERNATIVE TO DEBT RESTRUCTURING

Sri Lanka's finance minister on Friday said that the crisis-hit country must urgently restructure its debt and seek external help, while the main opposition threatened a no-confidence motion and business leaders warned that exports could plummet. The heavily indebted country has little money left to pay for imports, leading to crippling shortages of fuel, power, food and, increasingly, medicine. Street protests have been held nearly non-stop for more than a month, despite a five-day state of emergency and a two-day curfew. "We cannot step away from repaying debt because the consequences are terrifying. There is no alternative, we must restructure our debt," Ali Sabry told parliament. A repayment of $1 billion is due in July. J.P. Morgan analysts estimate that Sri Lanka's gross debt servicing costs will amount to $7 billion this year in total. "We have to go for a debt moratorium," said Sabry, who offered to quit a day after he was appointed on Monday but later confirmed that he was still the finance minister. "We have to suspend debt repayment for some time and get bilateral and multilateral support to manage our balance of payments."

JAPAN

PANEL WARNS HIGH RATES PUSHING BORROWING COST

An advisory panel to Japanese Finance Minister Shunichi Suzuki warned on Friday of a risk of a spike in interest payments on public debt and urged efforts to ensure sound fiscal policy to guard against the possibility of higher bond yields. The warning came against a backdrop of rising global bond yields driven by expectations of faster policy tightening by the Federal Reserve and other central banks. Japan is not experiencing the kind of spiralling increase in inflation and wage growth that the United States and some other countries face, while interest rates remain ultra low because of powerful monetary easing by the Bank of Japan (BOJ). "What's most affected in terms of finances will be interest rate payments," said a Ministry of Finance (MOF) official. A 1% increase in government bond yields would translate eventually into a 10 trillion yen ($80 billion) rise in borrowing costs, the official said, describing the panel's advice to the minister. "The yen is weakening and the current account balance has swung into a deficit," he added. "These underscore a growing need to ensure firm economic and fiscal policies so as to win confidence in the currency." Japan's outstanding balance of government bonds are expected to reach 1,026 trillion yen at the end of the fiscal year to March 2023.

TAIWAN

MARCH EXPORTS HIT RECORD, WAR CLOUDS OUTLOOK

Taiwan's exports rose for a 21st straight month in March to a new record in line with forecasts, boosted by continued strong tech demand, though the government warned of continued supply chain uncertainty and the effect of the war in Ukraine. The ministry attributed the March growth to strong demand for electronic components as well as semiconductors, and companies increasing orders to ensure supplies to customers. Exports of electronics components rose 35.6% in March to $18.24 billion, also a monthly record, with semiconductor exports surging 38.2% from a year earlier. Many companies expect global chip shortages to last at least for the rest of the year, which will continue to fill Taiwanese semiconductor firms' order books. Firms such as TSMC, the world's largest contract chip-maker, are major suppliers to Apple Inc and other global tech giants, as well as providers of chips for auto companies and lower-end consumer electronics. Earlier on Friday, TSMC reported March sales of T$171.97 billion ($5.95 billion), up 33.2% from the same period last year.

Equity MFs see all-time high net inflow

New delhi: Equity mutual funds attracted an all-time high net inflow of ₹28,463 crore in March, on continued interest by retail and HNI investors, who used market correction as a good buying opportunity. The net infusion, which also marks the 13th straight month of net inflow, indicates the underlying bullishness among investors. This was significantly higher than the net inflow of ₹19,705 crore in February, ₹14,888 crore in January and ₹25,077 crore in December 2021, data from the Association of Mutual Funds in India (AMFI) showed on Friday.

22% plus verified ITRs processed on same day

New Delhi: The finance ministry on Friday said over 22% of the verified returns were processed on the same day, while the overall average processing time was only 26 days for ITR assessments in the last fiscal year. The ministry said that during 2021-22, over 5.70 crore income tax returns (ITRs) were processed. Over 1.28 crore or over 22.4% were processed on the same day after verification. Over 1.47 crore ITRs were processed within a week, while over 72 lakh were processed within a fortnight and over 70 lakh within a month.

HDFC pares 3% stake in Bandhan Bank

New Delhi: Housing finance major HDFC Ltd on Friday divested a little over 3% stake in Bandhan Bank, garnering ₹1,522 crore, through an open market transaction. The transaction comes days after HDFC announced a mega merger with its banking arm HDFC Bank. According to bulk deal data available with the BSE, Housing Development Finance Corporation (HDFC) sold a total of 4,96,32,349 shares, amounting to 3.08% stake, of Bandhan Bank. The shares were offloaded at an average price of ₹306.61 apiece, valuing the transaction at ₹1,521.77 crore.

Cardless cash withdrawal at all ATMs: RBI

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

THE Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on Friday proposed cardless cash withdrawal facility at all ATMs using the unified payments interface (UPI). This facility will soon be available across all banks and ATM networks.

"At present, the facility of cardless cash withdrawal through ATMs is limited only to a few banks. It is now proposed to make cardless cash withdrawal facility available across all banks and ATM networks using the UPI," RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das said.

In addition to enhancing ease of transactions, the absence of the need for physical cards for such transactions would help prevent frauds such as card skimming, card cloning, etc, he added.

Currently, banks like ICICI, SBI, Bank of Baroda offer cardless cash withdrawal facilities. Last year, HDFC Bank introduced cardless cash withdrawal and transfers using a mobile number.

Since only a few banks are offering this cardless facility, with the RBI proposal, it will be more standardised and all banks will soon start offering this new feature.

When asked about this new proposal, Akhil Handa, Chief Digital Officer, Bank of Baroda told TNIE that this is another great initiative that will help build up a product on the UPI rails; just like the recently launched e-RUPI.

Gross revenue collection jumps 34% in FY22

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

INDIA'S gross revenue collections for the financial year ending March 31,2022 exceeded the budget estimates and revised estimates indicating a strong economic recovery, Revenue Secretary Tarun Bajaj said Friday.

As per the Government data, the gross revenue collection grew by nearly ₹5 lakh crore to ₹27.07 lakh crore, if compared with the budget estimates. The revised estimates for FY 22 were at ₹25.16 lakh crore.

The tax collected in FY22 was 34% higher than the previous year. According to the Finance Ministry, 2021-22 marks the highest tax-GDP ratio of 11.7%, with direct tax to GDP ratio at 6.1% and indirect tax to GDP ratio at 5.6%.

"The tax buoyancy is at a very healthy figure of 1.9, with 2.8 for direct taxes and 1.1 for indirect taxes. The ratio of direct to indirect taxes recovered back to 1.1 in 2021-22 from 0.9 in 2020-21," the Secretary said while interacting with the media. The gross corporate taxes during 2021-22 stood at ₹8.6 lakh crore as compared with ₹6.5 lakh crore in the previous year.

During the year, Income Tax department gave refunds of ₹2.24 lakh crore.

"During last two years, the effort has been to clear backlog of refunds to infuse liquidity into the hands of businesses. During the year, 2.4 crore refunds were issued that included 2.01 crore related to the year 2021-22, for which the returns were filed till March 31, 2021," the Finance Ministry official said.

With regard to indirect taxes, GST saw a robust growth during 2021-22 despite two waves of the Covid pandemic. CGST revenues grew from ₹4.6 lakh crore last year to ₹5.9 lakh crore in 2021-22. The average monthly gross GST revenue in 2021-22 was ₹1.23 lakh crore as against ₹94,734 crore in 2020-21 and ₹1.01 lakh crore in 2019-20.

BRENT CRUDE

IEA agrees to release reserves as crude oil falls below $100

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

THE decision of the International Energy Agency (IEA) to release crude and oil from its emergency stockpiles has started showing its impact as the crude oil price in the international market on Friday fell below $100 per barrel.

Brent Crude futures was trading at $99.98 per barrel, down by 1.07% while WTI was trading at $95.61 per barrel, down by 0.44%. The crude price in the International market has been on boil ever since Russia started military operations in Ukraine. In retaliation, the US and other European countries put various sanctions on Russia including banning Russian oil and other energy imports. However, this action only hiked the global crude oil price. The Brent Crude futures, the benchmark of global crude price, even touched $139 per barrel in the first week of March 2022, highest since 2014.

Therefore, to cool down the global crude oil price, the International Energy Agency (IEA) agreed to a 120-million-barrel release of crude and oil from emergency stockpiles. This is the second collective release by the IEA members, last month the IEA had agreed to release 62.7 million barrels of oil.

India welcomed the announcement by the IEA and said in the interest of collaborating with like-minded countries on these positive initiatives, India is examining what it can do to support these actions.

"In the interest of collaborating with like-minded countries on these positive initiatives, the Government of India is examining what it can do to support these actions. Grover urges BharatPe board audit CEO dealings

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

FOUNDER and former managing director of BharatPe Ashneer Grover on Friday urged the company's board to audit all dealings of CEO Suhail Sameer, and that he should be sent on an "immediate leave of absence".

Grover has written a letter to the board after Sameer told his sister Aashima that "Your brother stole all the money. Very little left to pay salaries". These comments were made after an employee of the company took to LinkedIn raising concerns about the non-payment of salaries.

In his letter, Grover also demanded an apology from Sameer for his comments against his sister and also sought chairman Rajnish Kumar's resignation.

"In the Governance Review which was supposed to be all encompassing, the chairman refused to look into the allegations made against Suhail altogether, further leading him to believe he is above everything," he said.

Grover in his letter claimed that Sameer was under the influence of alcohol and drugs when he put the said reply on LinkedIn. He also sought a written apology from Sameer to him, sister and the Board.

"In the absence of a written apology, my sister and I reserve our rights to seek damages and pursue criminal defamation against Suhail Sameer and the BharatPe Board," he said.

Grover said his sister's reputation has been irreparably damaged by the comment and will also be in her right to take up this with the women's commission and appropriate authorities.

After the reply to Grover's sister, Sameer apologised saying it was out of line. "My comment was a reaction to a particular statement, not the post. But I accept the mistake. I request you to also have patience, and refrain from building a story based on false narrative," he had said.

RUCHI SOYA FPO INVESTORS MAKE 44% PROFIT ON DAY 1

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

RUCHI Soya investors, who were allotted shares in the follow-on public offering (FPO), made a bomb as the stock closed at a high of ₹938 on the NSE on Friday.

The new shares were issued at ₹650 apiece, reflecting a return of 44% to the FPO investors.

According to market experts, investors who applied for arbitrage gain should book profit while long term investors can remain invested. Santosh Meena, Head of Research, Swastika Investmart, said that the stock may see some selling pressure on an immediate basis as it will see unwinding in FPO arbitrage positions.

He added that technically, the ₹700 level should act as an immediate floor for the stock.

Ruchi Soya board had approved the allotment of 6,61,53,846 equity shares with a face value of ₹2 each, aggregating to ₹4,300 crore.

The Baba Ramdev's Patanjali Ayurveda-owned company had conducted the FPO to meet Sebi's minimum public shareholding norm of 25% in a listed entity.

The company said it would utilise the entire proceeds to repay its outstanding debts and other corporate purposes. Ruchi Soya board in a regulatory filing said that upon completion of the FPO, the public shareholding of the Company stands at 19.18%.

It is expected that the company would dilute the remaining 6-7% by December this year.

1-time window to PSUs to surrender non-operational coal mines

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE government on Friday informed it has granted a one-time window to surrender non-operational coal mines without any penalty.

The decision, taken by the Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs provides three months to the Central and State PSUs to surrender non-operational mines without penalty (forfeiture of bank guarantee) and without citing any reason.

"This may release several coal mines which the present Government PSU allottees are not in a position to develop or are disinterested and could be auctioned as per the present auction policy," said the coal ministry in a statement. The ministry said post cancellation of coal blocks by the Supreme Court in 2014, to prevent immediate disruption of coal supplies to thermal power plants, the government has allotted many cancelled coal blocks to state and central PSUs on the allotment route. The allocation route was expeditious and it was expected that the coal requirement of State GENCOs would be met from those blocks.Till December-2021, 45 mines out of 73 coal mines allotted PSUs, remained non-operational and the due date of commencement of mining operations in case of 19 coal mines has already passed. "Delays were due to reasons beyond the control of allottees, for example, law and order issues..," said the ministry.

Becker found guilty over bankruptcy, could face jail

Tennis great Boris Becker could face a jail sentence after being found guilty on Friday of illicitly moving thousands of dollars from a bank account after he was declared bankrupt. A jury at London's Southwark Crown Court convicted Becker on four charges under the Insolvency Act, including removal of property, concealing debt and two counts of failing to disclose estate.

TITANS IN BEAST MODE

After Gill's 96, Tewatia helps Gujarat win with two consecutive sixes

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

THERE was something strange about Punjab Kings' innings. Since the start of the season, with fresh faces at their disposal, they have already established a style of play with the bat, which is to be committed in attack no matter what. These are early days but when it led to their downfall against Kolkata Knight Riders, they bounced back by sticking to the philosophy against Chennai Super Kings.

Against Gujarat Titans, as Punjab finished with 189/9 on board, they left you wondering if they had managed a very good total or they left a few more runs behind at the Brabourne Stadium. This was a classic case of why numbers and scoreboards don't really tell a story.

TODAY'S MATCHES
CSK VS SRH @3.30
RCB VS MI @7.30

At the end of the powerplay with Mayank Agarwal (5) and Jonny Bairstow (8) dismissed, Punjab were placed 43/2. This was their slowest start to an innings this season. Prior to this contest against Gujarat, they had been scoring at 10.9 RPO in the powerplay for the loss of five wickets. And instrumental to that has been Bhanuka Rajapaksa, who had to make way for Bairstow on Friday. Given the context, Gujarat started really well to keep Punjab quiet by their standards.

The middle-overs is where teams usually tend to slow down, they have maintained the momentum. Against Royal Challengers Bangalore they scored 99 runs between overs 7-16 for the loss of 5 wickets and in their match against Chennai got 80 runs. And these were on the back of them getting off to a good start. But on Friday, having lost two key players and Shikhar Dhawan far from his fluent best (35 off 30b), they still managed to stick to their philosophy and keep them in the contest by scoring 112 runs from seventh over to the 16th.

And it was largely thanks to Liam Livingstone, whose 27-ball 64 (7x4, 46) changed the momentum singlehandedly. Starting his innings by scoring a boundary off the first ball, he played only three dot balls in total. Although he lost Dhawan, Jitesh Sharma ensured the pressure wasn't on Livingstone alone, scoring 23 off 11. While Odean Smith was dismissed off the first ball he faced – stuck to their philosophy, went for a big shot and was caught on long-on – Shahrukh Khan contributed 15 off 8.

Yet, as they finished their innings, it felt as if they still left a few more runs behind. Having scored at 7 runs an over at the end of as many overs, from there on, Punjab's run-rate gradually increased 10.13 at the end of 15 overs. With no more specialist batters to follow, the onus was on Livingstone and Shahrukh to ferry them to a total that would be beyond Gujarat's reach. Instead, both perished, trying to go after Rashid Khan. It meant, Punjab only had Kagiso Rabada, Rahul Chahar, Vaibhav Arora and Arshdeep Singh to do the damage in the slog overs.

At 155/7, you thought Gujarat had the game in their bag then and there. But, Punjab's lower-order, comprising tail-enders, added 34 runs in four overs to ensure there were no easy runs for Gujarat. While a target of 190 does look good on board, it is also worth asking if a change of approach in the end would have fetched them a few more additional runs.

Perhaps, it is the risk that Punjab are willing to take for playing a brand of cricket that is surely going to make everyone sit and enjoy in their couch.

Brief scores: Punjab Kings 189/9 in 20 ovs (Livingstone 64, Dhawan 35; Rashid 3/35) lost to Gujarat Titans 190/4 in 20 ovs (Gill 96, Sudharsan 35, Tewatia 13 n.o).

India overwhelm South Korea to Jr WC semis

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

THESE are heady days for hockey in the country. Since August, all four of the country's principal hockey sides (seniors and juniors in both men and women) have now reached the semifinals of both global events (Olympics and junior World Cup) they have featured in. On Friday, the junior women's side had no problems in easing past South Korea to advance to the last four of the quadrennial event that was original slated for December but was postponed because of Covid Omicron variant.

The scoreline — 3-0 — did not flatter Salima Tete & Co. one bit. If anything, India didn't really have to move out of first gear for a vast majority of the 60 minutes at Potchefstroom.

Coming into the game, Korea's gameplan wasn't going to be a secret. At the pre-match press conference, vice-captain, Ishika Chaudhary, was so confident she even referenced Korea's strategy. "Speed has been our advantage and Korea is a team who can slow their opponent down," she had said. "This is something we will be conscious about and we will try to work our way around it and focus on creating space."

This, in essence, was going to decide the fate of the game. In the end, though, it was over as a contest before the beginning of the second quarter. As advertised by Ishika, they used pace, created multiple openings and frequently got behind the Korean defence. They were also clinical in front of goal, something they failed to do the last time these two sides met, albeit at the senior level. At the Asia Cup early this year, South Korea had edged India 3-2 in the semifinals.

From the moment Mumtaz Khan profited from a clever deflection from the opening penalty corner, it was going to be a question of how many. For Korea, coming into the game, had only scored once in the entirety of the group stage. To be fair to them, they tried to inject some pace and urgency to their game — it doesn't come naturally to them — when they were trailing 0-2 but India always maintained control.

A third goal by Sangita Kumari, who slapped the ball into the roof of the net from close range, allowed them to conserve energy before Sunday's semifinal.

Pro League: Historic win for India women

TANMAY DAS @Bhubaneswar

THE Indian women's team caused a massive upset on Friday, edging World No 1 and Olympic champs Netherlands 2-1 in the opening match of their double header of the FIH Pro League at Kalinga Stadium here. Netherlands had made wholesale changes with as many as eight making their first appearances for the national team.

The more-experienced Indians used that to their advantage by putting up a clinical show, both attacking wise and defensively.

This win is a massive shot in the arm for India, who jumped to second spot in the standings. Netherlands, who had last beaten India 5-1 in the Olympics, remain on top with 17 points.

Navneet Kaur, playing her 100th international match, was declared the player of the match. The two sides will meet again on Saturday.

FOOTBALL BONANZA

This weekend will witness some big Premier League matches including a potential title-decider between Man City and Liverpool. Here's a look at a few key clashes...

HIGH-STAKE BATTLES

Caught in a relegation battle, Everton are in desperate need of points and will face Man United, who are themselves looking to get into the top four. A loss for either side could prove to be detrimental. Watford and Leeds will also be a key watch as both are involved in a relegation scrap. It's the same story for Burnley and Norwich, two sides in relegation zone.

CLASH OF TITANS

Just one point separates the two giants of English football at the top. Man City will look to make their home advantage count against Liverpool, who will be looking for their 11th consecutive win. Whosoever wins could potentially carry on the momentum forward to clinch the title.

Fundamental particle heavier than thought

Scientists say W boson has more mass than theorised, shaking our understanding of universe

PHYSICS

NEW YORK: After a decade of meticulous measurements, scientists announced on Thursday that a fundamental particle — the W boson — has a significantly greater mass than theorised, shaking the foundations of our understanding of how the universe works.

"It's not just something is wrong," said Dave Toback, a spokesperson for the US government's Fermi National Accelerator Lab, which conducted the experiments. If replicated by other labs, "it literally means something fundamental in our understanding of nature is wrong."

The physicists at the lab crashed particles together over ten years and measured the mass of 4 million W bosons. These subatomic particles are responsible for a fundamental force at the center of atoms, and they exist for only a fraction of a second before they decay into other particles.

The difference in mass from what the prevailing theory of the universe predicts is too big to be a rounding error or anything that could be easily explained away, according to the study by a team of 400 scientists from around the world published Thursday in the journal Science.

Duke University physicist Ashutosh V Kotwal, the project leader for analysis, said it's like discovering there's a hidden room in your house.

Scientists speculated that there may be an undiscovered particle that is interacting with the W boson that could explain the difference. Maybe dark matter, another poorly understood component of the universe, could be playing a role. Or maybe there's just new physics involved that they just don't understand at the moment, researchers said.

The standard model says a W boson should measure 80,357,000 electron volts, plus or minus six. "We found it slightly more than that. Not that much, but it's enough," said Giorgio Chiarelli, another scientist for the Fermi team and research director for the Italian National Institute for Nuclear Physics. The Fermi team's scale put the W boson at a heftier 80,433,000 electron volts, plus or minus nine. It doesn't seem like a big difference, but it is a huge one in the subatomic world.

The finding is important because of its potential effect on the standard model of physics. Nature has facts," Duke's Kotwal said. "The model is the way we understand those facts."

Scientists have long known the standard model isn't perfect. It doesn't explain dark matter or gravity well. If scientists have to go in and tinker with it to explain these findings they have to make sure it doesn't throw out of whack mathematical equations that now explain and predict other particles and forces well.

FIFTH GENERATION FIGHTERS TO BOOST INDIA'S FORCE

Decks have been cleared for a nod from the Cabinet Committee on Security for the design and prototype development of India's first fifth generation fighter aircraft—the HAL AMCA. While China has the Chengdu J-20 and the US and Russia being the only other countries to own fifth generation fighters, India's Advanced Medium Combat Aircraft (AMCA) will make its entry into the airforce by 2035. Here's a lowdown on these fighters

Fifth generation fighter aircraft (FGFA)

These are the most advanced fighter aircraft currently in operation. The FGFA was built with the technologies that were developed in the early 21st century

Though there is no standard agreement on what techs come under FGFA, they usually have advanced stealth mode, supercruise ability and capacity to network with other elements in battle

Advanced stealth usually includes building the aircraft in such a way that there is only minimal reflections of radar waves on its body

SUKHOI SU-57

Russia's first stealth fighter and a product of Russia PAK FA programme, this 18 tonne aircraft entered service in 2020. The twin-engine, stealth fighter is also marketed by Russia for export

CHENGDU J-20

This twin-jet, all weather fighter made its maiden flight in 2011 and entered service in 2017. Made by China's Chengdu Aerospace Corporation, the R&D for the aircraft started way back in 1990s

HAL AMCA

This single-seat, twin-engine aircraft is planned to come out in two versions—the Mark 1 with fifth generation capabilities and the Mark 2 with sixth

GENERATION CAPABILITIES

With the Rafale being a 4.5 generation fighter and India's big guns—the Su-30—being a Russian product, the HAL AMCA would be an ideal replacement for the Sukhois. A model of the aircraft was displayed in Aero India 2019 and its first flight is expected by 2024–25

2,600 km/hour EXPECTED MAXIMUM SPEED OF HAL AMCA

F-22 RAPTOR

This single-seat, twin-engine fighter, manufactured by Lockheed Martin Aeronautics of the US, entered service in 2005

This 29 tonne beast has a maximum speed of over 2 mach

The US Air Force has over 180 F-22 Raptors and the country bans its export to protect the stealth technology

F-35 LIGHTNING II

Lockheed's much more versatile fighter when compared with the F-22 Raptors. It joined the US Air Force in 2015 and does not have a ban on exports. Though the Lighting II is more versatile, the unproven design and delayed development has made many countries sceptical on buying it. The F-35 Lightning II contains technology from the F-22, but was designed to be cheaper and more flexible

03 countries

As of 2022, only three countries have FGFA in service—the US, Russia and China

04 AIRCRAFT

The US has two FGFA—Lockheed Martin's F-22 Raptor and F-35 Lightning II, Russia's Su-57 and China's Chengdu J-20

6TH GENERATION FIGHTERS

These aircraft have much more advanced technology. The first fighter of this class is expected to be operational in about 10 years from now

Belgium shuts chocolate factory over salmonella

HEALTH

PARIS: Belgian authorities on Friday ordered the closure of a Kinder chocolate factory suspected to be behind a wave of salmonella cases in several European countries and the United States.

The decision and the health concerns were blows to its owner, Italian confectionery giant Ferrero, coming at the height of the Easter holiday season when its Kinder chocolates are sought-after supermarket buys.

Ferrero issued a statement saying it "sincerely apologises" for the spate of salmonella cases and acknowledging the suspension of operations of its factory located in the southeastern town of Arlon.

Belgium's food safety authority, AFSCA, said in a statement the plant was ordered shut "following the findings of the last few hours that information provided by Ferrero is incomplete".

It ordered the recall of the factory's entire production of the company's popular Kinder brand.

The authority "will only authorise the reopening of the site once it has been concluded that the establishment complies with all food safety rules and requirements," it added.

Belgian Agriculture Minister David Clarinval said that "such a decision is never taken lightly, but the current circumstances make it necessary. The food security of our citizens can never be neglected."

Ferrero said it "acknowledges there were internal inefficiencies, creating delays in retrieving and sharing information in a timely manner".

UK FARMERS CALL FOR WEEDKILLER BAN

Farmers in the UK are calling for a ban on the production of toxic weedkiller Paraquat, citing studies that say it could cause Parkinson's disease. Though the use of Paraquat is baned in the UK, the country produces it in large quanities to be shipped abroad. Almost 80% of UK's Paraquat export goes to the US, where its use remains legal. The demand by the UK famrers comes as hundreds of farm workers in the US are seeking a ban on its use. More than 900 American farmworkers suffering from Parkinson's have mounted a legal challenge. A study said people exposed to it are at least 2.5 times more likely to develop Parkinson's.

OMICRON CAUSES SHORTER INFECTION

People who are vaccinated and have had a booster shot against Covid-19 recover from symptoms from the Omicron variant more than three days earlier than those with the Delta variant, a study said Friday. The study also found that people with Omicron are significantly less likely to lose their sense of smell. To find out the differences in how Omicron and Delta make sufferers sick, researchers used a free smartphone app called ZOE on which more than 63,000 vaccinated people in Britain aged 16-99 self-reported their Covid symptoms between June 2021 and January 2022. For those with two vaccine doses plus a booster, symptoms from Omicron lasted 4.4 days, compared to 7.7 for Delta -- a difference of 3.3 days.

With many wanting to spend time outdoors, picnic companies are organising open-air experiences

FUN IN THE SUN

ANILA KURIAN

SPRING is here and so is the heat. Bengalureans are pulling out their picnic baskets and getting ready for a fun time, but with a twist. Making your picnic baskets, finding the right spot and a great ambience can be time-consuming. So, companies in the city have found an easier solution where people just have to show up at the location and have fun.

Taking it to the outskirts of the city are The Picnic Company run by Shwetha Gupta and Bhawna Rao. "When you book a picnic experience with us, all you have to do is show up at the venue, which is usually a farmhouse. We curate specialised go-to picnic hampers, and set up the picture-perfect fun-day out," says Rao about the company which was started during the pandemic. "Coming out to an open space with birds chirping around you, and having a good time with friends and family felt like a great opportunity for many," adds Gupta, who explains that their food partner is BLR Brewing Company and it can be customised as per one's request. It is priced at ₹10,999 onwards.

Whether it's in your backyard, a park or a farmhouse, all you have to do is let gifting brand Dottedi know about your interests. "We have a DIY picnic concept for small groups where we send everything, including platters of food. But the price goes higher if it's a larger setup (four to six people) and requires table setting, picnic games and music," says Naadia Mirza, co-founder and director. It is priced at ₹17,500. There's also a treasure hunt picnic offered where the customer has to leave home at 6 am and follow the map to the secret location. "We provide a south Indian breakfast option at the location. You will be given a second clue when you reach the hilltop and when you come down, a spa session and goodie basket after the six-hour trek," adds Mirza. It is priced at ₹12,000 with the venue.

Making the picnic more advanced is Hunan at Home which delivers grilled meats and a one-time grill that is biodegradable. Owner Jagadish Menda explains, "Customers can order the grilled meats from the a la carte menu or they can opt for an entire package which comes with the grill itself. The package (priced at ₹5,000) also includes soups, salads and a playlist by a DJ that you can listen to while enjoying the grilled meats with a beverage."

For picnic baskets

1. Sheraton Grand Bangalore Hotel at Brigade Gateway offers premium members a picnic basket. Marketing manager Nikhil Ranganathan says, "The baskets are customisable where we offer different cuisines, including Persian, European and Indian." Price: ₹5,000 onwards

2. Santé Spa Cuisine Bangalore owner Pallavii Gupta explains, "For a picnic on the terrace or in the backyard, we have a suitable hamper All that needs to be done is pop open a bottle and have a good time." Price: ₹2,000 onwards

3. If you want to stick to the usual picnic basket items, Foodhall offers baskets with spicy cheddar cream cheese, nachos, winter garden focaccia, Nutella doughnuts, and stuffed olives. Price: ₹2,500 onwards

FIT BIT

PARSVA DHANURASANA

(SIDE BOW POSE)

Basically, it is a variant of Dhanurasana in which the body is rolled to the side to increase the spread of the stretching effect. It involves stretching of the spine and abdominal muscles. It benefits feet, ankles, chest, knees, and quadriceps. Both the feet are held by the hands. It involves the forward movement in the shoulder and backward push in the legs. These two opposite forces create a space within the lumbar region of the back. It is performed side-wise, deeply stretching each side individually.

STEPS

- Lie down in prone position. Bring your head up and bend your knees projecting the toes towards your head.
- Inhale and hold your ankles with your hands. Then lift your thighs off the floor and try to pull your arms; lift the legs as much as possible.
- Inhale and roll your shoulders forward. Exhale and bring your right shoulder towards the floor.
- Squeeze the knee together and keep the neck aligned with the spine. Gaze towards your nose and be in bow pose on the sides.
- You can stay in the pose for 5 breaths. Exhale and roll onto your stomach.
- Perform the same steps on the left and return to the centre rolling onto your stomach. Release and relax.

BENEFITS

- Tones the muscles of the hands and arms.
- Knee joints are stretched and hamstrings contracted.
- Tones the thighs and spine.
- Psoas muscles are stretched to support the hips and back.
- Activates joints like ankles, wrists, shoulder, knees and hips.
- Opens the chest, rib cage, shoulders and upper abdomen.
- Keep body alignment in mind to remain in the pose longer.
- Removes muscular stress and stiffness energizing the body.
- Stimulates the functioning of the heart and lungs.
- Improves circulation and musculoskeletal system.

LIMITATIONS

- Give three hours gap between meal and practice. Avoid at night especially before sleeping hours.
- While pulling the thighs don't bend the elbows. Don't let the knees go past the shoulders.
- Avoid in case of pregnancy, heart disease, neck or lower back injury, migraine, and hernia.

FEAST AFTER THE FAST

Evenings on MM Road are buzzing as Iftar stalls in the city make a comeback after two years of the pandemic

ANILA KURIAN

THE smell of kebabs, samosas, and cutlets waft through the streets of MM Road where several food stalls have been set up during the month of Ramzan. Finally, after two years, the streets are buzzing again as hundreds queue up to try the offerings. Even as crowds don't seem as much as pre-pandemic days, stall owners are relieved to see some semblance of normalcy, enough to keep their spirits high.

On a Thursday evening, we head out to MM Road in Frazer Town, stopping by different stalls, trying different offerings, and attempting to catch the buzz of the season. Our first pick is Pathar-ka-Gosht, a lamb dish (₹200) that's prepared by heating the meat on a wide-stone. The spices are added while it's being cooked on the heated surface and served with onion slices. We try the one available at Al Kareem which had a good number of people waiting to order as well. The meat is well-cooked but be warned that it's a salty offering.

Hoping that the next dish will go easy on salt, we hopped over to The Deagh Taste of Hind for their Kheema Pav which we've heard much about. Unfortunately, it lets us down as we find meat in minimum in the stuffing and an overdose of onions. We pay ₹120 as we scan the other options at the same stall, kheema balls, samosa, shawarma, and desserts like phirni and gulab jamun.

It's Mutton Seekh Kebab (₹120) at Savera Family Restaurant and we are in for a surprise when it comes with a generous dose of mayonnaise. No, thank you!

Stalls selling Iftar food during Ramzan at MM Road

As we look around for some drinks to wash down this unusual combo, we find a stall offering Mohabbath Ka Sharbat (₹84), a hot favourite at Karama, a unit of Hotel Empire. Made with watermelon, chilled milk and rose syrup, the drink is a perfect concoction in this sweltering heat. Refreshed, we figure we haven't given the famous haleem (₹185) a try. Going by the sharbat, we decide to buy the slow-cooked meat dish at the same place.

Karama also has brain fry, which we simply can't get ourselves to try. But we find people in large numbers placing orders for this. Next time, we tell ourselves. "Where is vegetarian stuff?," we hear many ask. Unfortunately, apart from juice, samosa and desserts, this is a haven for meat lovers.

No meal is complete without desserts, and so we walk to Bombay Chowpaty Kulfi to pick their seasonal offering. With options of strawberry, guava, muskmelon and chickoo for kulfi, we satisfy ourselves with a bowl of chickoo kulfi. Happy in the tummy, we call it an evening with the promise to return. And try some brain fry, maybe.

The Iftar fair will be on till May 3 and is open on all evenings.

1. Summer brings us to our favourite fruit season - Karnataka produces several variety of mangoes, which is the variety that's produced in Kolar, Tumakuru and surrounding areas. What's this variant called?
2. A simple rice porridge with different versions across different places - what is it called? It is eaten with ghee, pickle and sometimes fish chutney, and is good for an upset stomach or even for hot summers.
3. Seasonal light vegetables, butter milk and coconut, a popular curry from coastal Karnataka - another dish that's perfect for summer hydration. What are we referring to?

SRINI TO DIRECT SHIVARAJKUMAR IN HEIST THRILLER TITLED GHOST

Shivarajkumar

A SHARADHAA

THERE were reports that Chi Gurudutt will be directing Shivarajkumar in a film backed by Sandesh Productions. However, going by the latest development, Gurudutt has backed out of the project, and instead, Srini of Topiwala fame will helm the Hattrick hero. The director had a round of discussions with the actor and the production house has finalised the project. Accordingly, Shivarajkumar will be starring in a heist action thriller titled Ghost. The story has been locked, and in all likelihood, the production house will start the shoot in the next couple of months.

Currently, Shivanna is busy shooting for his 125th film, Vedha. The Century star is waiting for the release of Bairagee, which is slated for May release. One of the busiest actors in Sandalwood, Shivanna, also has Nee Siguvaregu and a film with director Rishab Shetty, a film helmed by Lohit H and director Jai R in his kitty.

The film, presented by Sandesh Nagaraj, will be produced by his son, Sandesh N. The project is set to go on floors in the next couple of months

Thriller that fails to deliver the intended message

TRIKONA

Cast: Suresh Heblikar, Lakshmi, Achyuth Kumar, Sudharani, Sadhu Kokila, Marutesh, Mandeep Roy

Director: Chandrakantha

A SHARADHAA

AN hour into Trikona, written by producer Rajashekar, vaguely reminds you of Steven Speilberg's 1971 film, Duel – a plot about a road rage where a salesman travelling on a highway is chased by a truck with an invisible driver. However, the difference in Trikona is that the truck driver is not stalking one person but three men of different generations and age groups. Does it manage to maintain the intensity like Speilberg's film and deliver the intended message aptly? The answer is a sad no.

The reason behind the film's title Trikona is that the film is about three different men - Trivikrama (Rajveer) a 25-year-old rich businessman who always looks down upon people, Kondandarama (Achyuth Kumar), a 45-year-old family man who likes to control his wife (Sudharani), Nataraja (Suresh Heblikar) a 65-year-old hotelier. All the three men are heading to a star-hotel for different purposes. What begins as a smooth journey turns out to be frightful when they get chased by a truck driver. We don't understand the motive behind the truck driver. But how the three men of different age groups handle the situation is what Trikona is all about. The underlying theme of this man vs machine story emphasises human emotions like patience, strength, and ego. All seems good on paper but the execution tests the audience's patience right through the film. Director Chandrakantha, who made his debut with an experimental film like 143, seems to have struggled to pull off this one.

RATING 2.5/5

Except for some breathtaking chase scenes and scenic shots of places, the film is uninteresting. Also, the villain, played by Marutesh, who screams stuff like 'Chal Chal Jula' is annoying and impactful in an otherwise bland affair. However, a scene where the villain urinates on the car's windscreen is sickening.

The film brings together well-known actors - Suresh Heblikar, Lakshmi, Acyuth Kumar, and Sudharani among others - who have played their parts well. A few comedy scenes by Sadhu Kokila leave you in splits. With average music by Surendranath BR and a decent effort by cinematographer Srinivas Vinnakota, Trikona doesn't drive home the intended message.

An engaging placeholder film that falls a bit short

FANTASTIC BEASTS: THE SECRETS OF DUMBLEDORE

Cast: Eddie Redmayne, Jude Law, Mads Mikkelsen, Dan Fogler

Director: David Yates

AVINASH RAMACHANDRAN

HARRY Potter is a once-in-a-generation cultural phenomenon. After the first few years of being entranced by witchcraft and wizardry, it becomes clear that JK Rowling's story was a statement against fascism. The Fantastic Beasts series speaks of the importance of fighting against fascism and the necessity of inclusivity... here though, there is no room for subtlety. In a post-truth world, writers JK Rowling and Steve Kloves understand the importance of making it as obvious as possible and their latest attempt at doing this is The Secrets of Dumbledore.

The film continues from where it left off in Crimes of Grindelwald, albeit with a slight casting change: Gellert Grindelwald is now played by Mads Mikkelsen, not Johnny Depp. The eccentricity of Johnny gets swapped with the sophistication of Mads. Grindelwald, you see, wants to wage a war against the Muggles and have the world inhabited only by his kind. We see the makers avoiding all pretense and showing Albus Dumbledore (a brilliant Jude Law) and Grindelwald as star-crossed lovers, even though the latter has corrupted the system and people with his hate-mongering. Who should go against the machinations of Grindelwald and Co.?

The adventures of this eclectic group aren't exactly fascinating, but the individual characters do go through their respective journeys, which makes up for the entertainment quotient. Be it the Indiana Jones-esque sequence featuring Newt and Theseus, the ballroom escape featuring Professor Hicks and Kowalski, or the final switcheroo comedy with a bunch of suitcases, Secrets of Dumbledore has a lot going for it. However, the lack of big action set pieces is a bit of a dampener.

RATING 3/5

While Secrets of Dumbledore isn't exactly brilliant, it does feel like an upgrade on the franchise's previous film, The Crimes of Grindelwald, which suffered from the 'Middle Film Syndrome'. The franchise has always been planned as a five-film series, and often, in such franchises, the second, third and fourth films feel like they are building up to something large: in the case of this franchise, the final, famous war between Gellert Grindelwald and Albus Dumbledore. Let's not forget, this franchise is as much about Newt Scamander too, and this is perhaps where The Crimes of Grindelwald missed a trick by not focussing much on its protagonist. This film makes no such mistake though.

For those not acquainted with the magical world of Harry Potter, and the even more magical world of Newt Scamander, the third instalment might be a difficult beast to handle, but those who know a Qilin from a Hippogriff will see that this is quite an efficient placeholder film.
